TEXAS AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE

DEDICATION

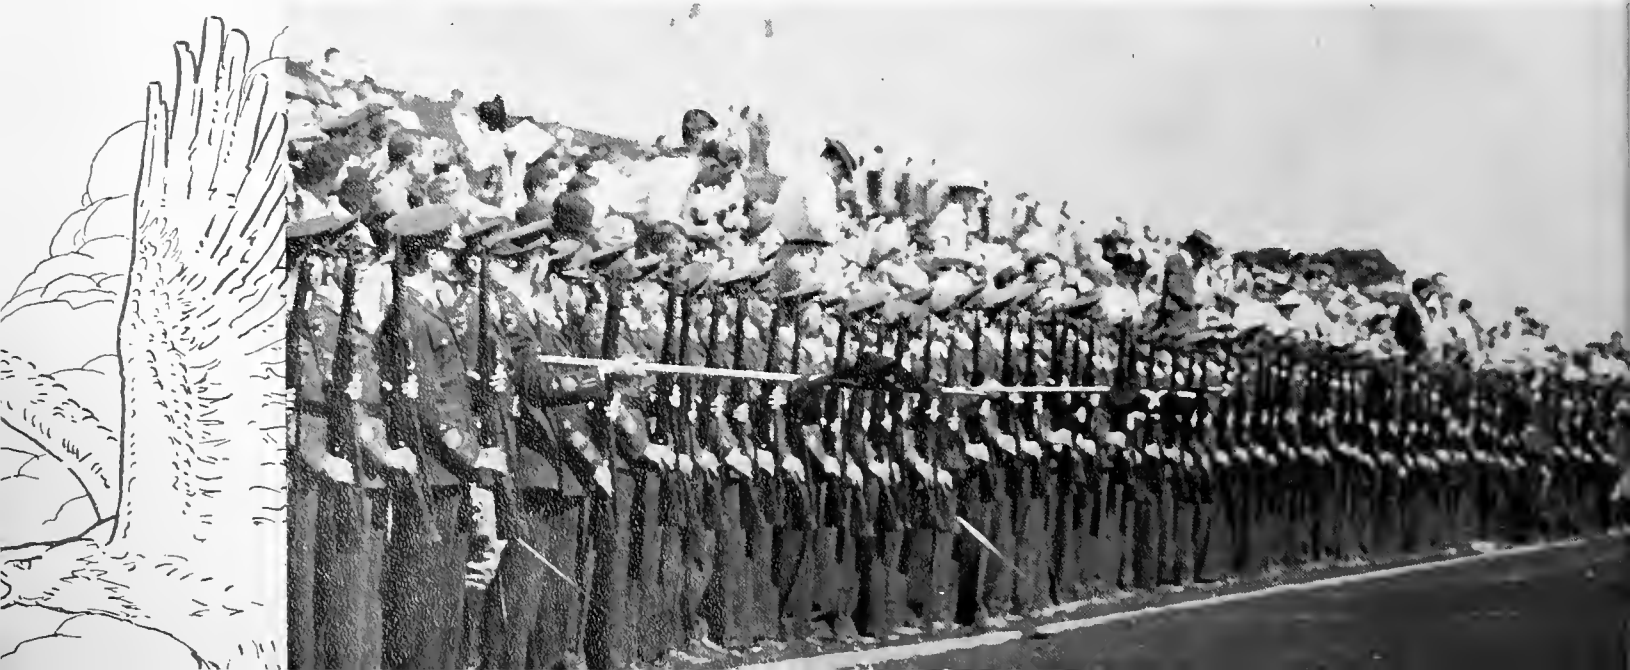

To FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

● The three attributes of character which we as Cadets of A. & M. College hold in highest regard are those of Courage, Loyalty, and Unselfishness: Courage to do that which one knows to be right; Loyalty to one's ideals; and Unselfishness in dealing with one's fellowman.

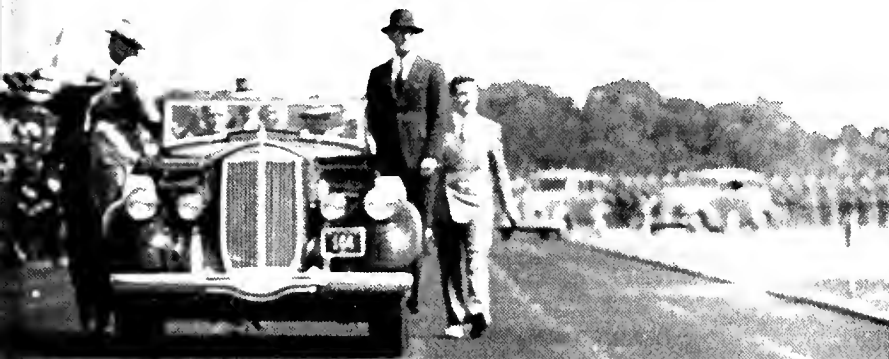

To one whose acts for the past six years have been conditioned by these attributes we owe much. He has had the courage in the face of stern opposition to recommend and do the things which he felt to be to the best interest of the people of his country; he has been loyal to the ideals which he set for himself at the beginning of his administration; he has been unselfish, for even in danger of losing personal prestige he has pushed on to goals which he felt would be beneficial to us all. Because of his work, we as Seniors of the College feel that we can go from its doors with more assurance of achieving those things which we desire.

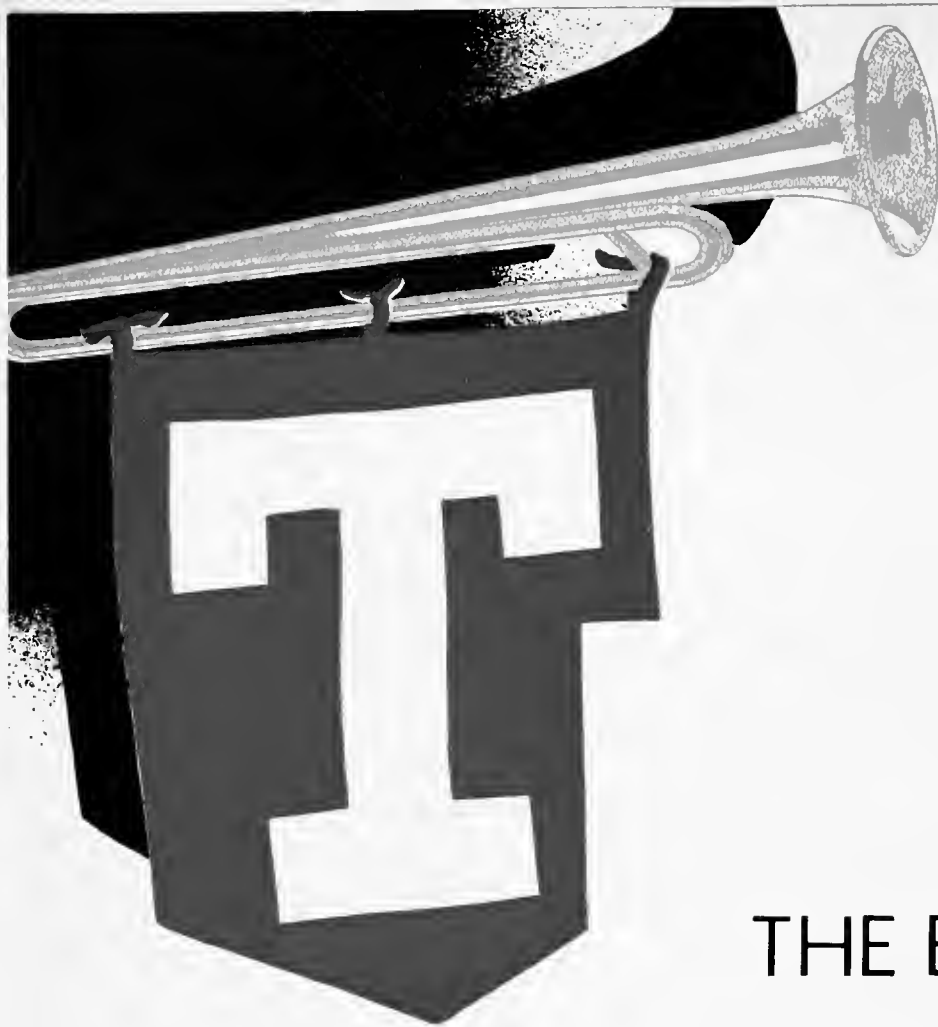

So, to FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, whose life is the very acme of Courage, Loyalty, and Unselfishness, we dedicate this book, the 1938 LONGHORN.

THE EDITOR'S NOTE

● On behalf of the LONGHORN staff, may I say that our paramount desire has been to create a book that will be of the most interest to the entire student body. We all have general reasons for going to college, but at the same time we all have very specific reasons for choosing Texas A. & M. College, and it is with these specific reasons that we are most concerned. In the first place, A. & M. is a MAN'S school; in the second place, it is a military school; and in the third place, it is a school for SPORTS. It is on the third reason that we have based the composition of the 1938 LONGHORN, and we are calling it the Athletic Edition.

I consider it a privilege to have assembled this book for a Senior Class that has seen the Aggie teams climb from the cellar to first division places in the Southwest Conference.

Certainly I have never received a greater honor than to have been allowed to compile this resume of the activities of the Class of '38.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

During your undergraduate days, young gentlemen of the Class of 1938, I do not doubt but that you have become extremely weary of two words, Duty and Responsibility. And yet, while these words have been emphasized and re-emphasized since the English language first was spoken, no more euphonic synonym has been devised for them and no principle of human behavior has been found worthy of substitution for their inherent and sustaining worth. The truth is you go out from this institution as a beneficiary of your State, with countless hours of earnest endeavor instilled into your lives by a sincere faculty. You should justify this expenditure of dollars and labor in your training. So then, bereft of other injunctions as direct and meaningful as these overworked words, I admonish you to go forth from this college determined to make your life aim and purpose consonant with your duty and your responsibility.

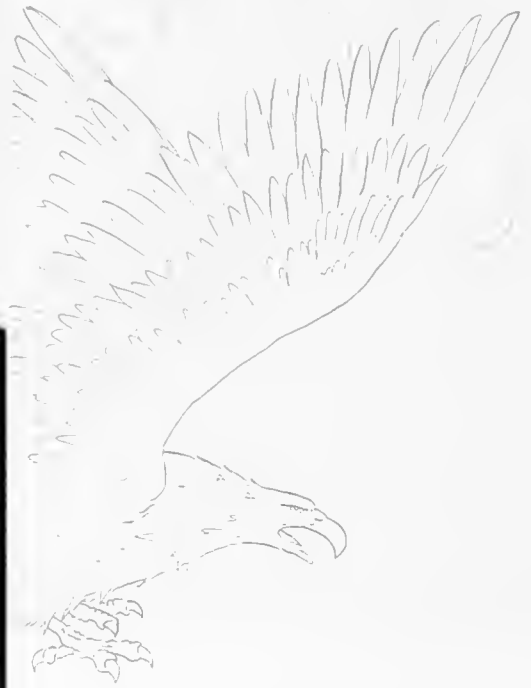

In all things, social, political, spiritual, you have enjoyed the fullest freedom of choice. These liberties were hewn out of chaos for you by your heroic and self-sacrificing forefathers. Your responsibility is to make a like contribution to succeeding generations. You have been singularly favored. Your performance in your chosen field must reflect favorably upon those institutions that have provided your training. There is no such thing as an exhausted field of service or opportunity. New frontiers are to be explored in each field covered in the curricula of this College. I confidently look forward to finding, when you pass from this, the Maytime of your lives to the December of your leadership, that representatives of the Class of 1938 have constantly exemplified such faithfulness to your duty and your responsibility that these words will have continued to remain that they now are, "the sublimest words in the English language."

J. O. Walton

President

DEAN F. C. BOLTON

THE VICE-PRESIDENT

Dean F. C. Bolton, who had been Dean of the School of Engineering since 1922, was made Vice-President of the College this year. He has done much to aid the progress of A. & M., and well deserved this newly created office. He still retains his position as Dean of the College.

Dean Bolton says, "In college you have discovered something of your own mental aptitudes and have developed a purpose in life. One should always aim toward a definite career, but his objectives should be kept sufficiently flexible so that they may be adapted to changing conditions and as dictated by a developing judgment. You have equipped yourself with some of the tools of your profession or vocation. These tools must be kept up-to-date; some must be sharpened and reshaped, others discarded to be replaced by those which will prove more effective in the light of man's increasing knowledge. If you can correctly evaluate and develop your own ability, if you have learned enough of the machinery of society and of its history to apply your gifts effectively, and if you have the initiative to make plans and the courage to carry them out; success will be yours."

LT. COL. G. F. MOORE

THE COMMANDANT

This year marked the return to the system so long in vogue at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas wherein the Professor of Military Science and Tactics is also the Commandant of the Cadets. Thus, in one individual is vested the responsibility for the military instruction, discipline, and, to a large extent, the general welfare and morals of the entire student body.

The Commandant, Lieutenant-Colonel George F. Moore, is respected and trusted by every A. & M. Cadet. His attendance at this institution has given him the sympathetic understanding of the problems which confront the Commandant.

It is through this office that the dormitories, equipment, and the needs of the students are cared for.

Colonel Moore and his assistants are to be commended for the work they have done this year.

DEAN GIBB GILCHRIST

THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

● This year the School of Engineering has a new head, Dean Gibb Gilchrist. For nine years prior to his coming to A. & M. Dean Gilchrist was State Highway Engineer of Texas. We are fortunate to have a man of his experience.

"The A. & M. College of Texas has the second largest engineering enrollment in the United States. Practically one-half of the current year's enrollment is in the School of Engineering. There is something that attracts boys to the profession. They are interested in its possibilities of accomplishing big works. Such a situation calls for much serious thought and is, in fact, a challenge to the administrative officers and the faculty of the School of Engineering to see that these boys are given every opportunity to properly prepare themselves for professional competition with graduates of the world's best schools. It shall be the purpose of those directing the Engineering School to accomplish such a result. We have the raw talent, as fine as there is anywhere. Many valuable ideas have come from the creative instinct of young minds. We propose then, that young minds be given better instruction, and by enlarged research and experiment facilities, be provided with opportunities to develop ideas, processes and experiments that will be to their own credit, to that of the College, and for the good of mankind."

THE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

The School of Agriculture at Texas A. & M. has as its head one of the nation's foremost figures in agriculture. As head of this department, Dean E. J. Kyle has seen it grow and develop for twenty-seven years until it is now one of the largest as well as the most complete in the world.

It is obvious that Texas is one of the leading states in agriculture, therefore the School of Agriculture prepares its graduates to be leaders as well as to establish new systems and advance new ideas in this field.

The School of Agriculture is made up of the following departments: Agricultural Engineering, Animal Husbandry, Accounting and Statistics, Agronomy, Farm and Ranch Management, Marketing and Finance, Agricultural Economics, Dairy Husbandry, Genetics, Landscape Art, Rural Education, and Agricultural Education.

A. & M. graduates in Agriculture can be found in responsible positions all over the world.

DEAN T. D. BROOKS

THE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

● In addition to the many students enrolled in the School of Arts and Sciences, every other student of the College is required to complete some work in this department to obtain a degree from A. & M. Both the School of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School are under the able direction of Dean T. D. Brooks, who has very effectively executed his duties since 1932.

Although A. & M. is primarily an agricultural and mechanical school, there are many language and literature courses offered. These courses give the student of specialized work the needed additional work along the non-technical lines that are essential to a thorough and complete education. The Graduate School embodies every school taught in this institution and gives the graduate student practical and efficient training in his chosen course of study. The School of Arts and Sciences has grown both in enrollment and prestige under the capable management of Dean Brooks, and the great work that the school has done is typical of the true Aggie spirit of Dean Brooks.

THE SCHOOL OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

DEAN R. P. MARSTELLER

Dr. R. P. Marsteller has been head of The School of Veterinary Medicine for two years. Under his able direction he has maintained the high standard of Texas A. & M. in the Veterinary Medicine established by the late Dr. Mark Francis.

The School of Veterinary Medicine was established in 1916. Registration, September 1937, was 340, the largest attendance in America. There are six departments: Veterinary Anatomy, Veterinary Hygiene, Veterinary Medicine and Surgery, Veterinary Pathology, Veterinary Parasitology, and Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology. All departments offer graduate work and participate in research and Veterinary Extension. The Veterinary Clinics are among the best from standpoints of number, type cases and comprehensiveness. These clinics are of state-wide usefulness. Many animals, including poultry, are sent here for diagnosis and treatment. About 7,000, some from nearly every county, were listed during 1936-37. The buildings, Francis Hall, Veterinary Hospital and Anatomy Building are modern and well arranged.

Graduates in Veterinary Medicine receive training qualifying them for: practice of Veterinary Medicine, Veterinary Corps United States Army, State and Federal Bureaus of Animal Industry, and foundation training for other fields of biology, dealing with domestic and wild animals, including poultry, zoo and pet animals.

THE FISCAL DEPARTMENT

W. H. HOLZMANN
Comptroller of Accounts

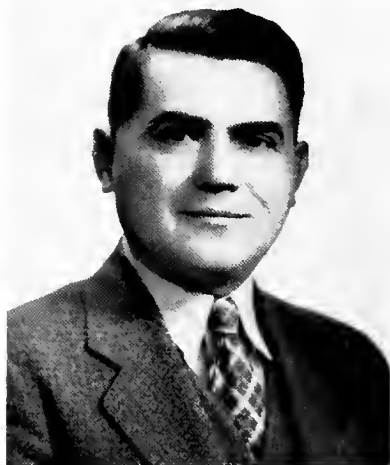

The three divisions of this department are under the capable guidance of Mr. W. H. Holzmann, who, with the aid of his efficient clerks, has managed these divisions in such a way that the Cashier's branch furnishes the students a convenient depository and checking system and handles the financial affairs of the student labor system, the Purchasing division supplies the various departments of the College with their numerous needs, and the Accounting division records the expenditures and accounts of the College.

The Fiscal Department is the channel through which all financial matters concerning the College are handled and it is an important factor in the administrative harmony of the institution.

THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

E. J. HOWELL
Registrar

The Registrar's office with its seemingly unlimited number of files and cabinets, keeps permanent records of the accomplishments and failures of every student who enters A. & M. Other departments of the College, as well as outsiders, who desire information about A. & M. students and graduates, depend largely on the records of this office.

This office serves as a contact to prospective students furnishing them information on the College, courses, credits, and entrance. Mr. E. J. Howell, a graduate of the Class of '22, and his assistants handle all registration, matriculation, classification, and matters of graduation. Another of the many duties of the Registrar's office is the publication of all catalogues, directories, and official bulletins of the College.

THE TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

Under the able management of Mr. A. B. Connor, with the aid of his staff of assistants, the Agricultural Experiment Station is rendering invaluable service to the public. This is one of the most valuable divisions of A. & M. College, having done much research in problems pertaining to veterinary medicine, rural home research, plant pathology, physiology, farm and ranch economics, feed control, entomology, chemistry, botany, apiculture, animal industry, agronomy, and agricultural engineering.

A. B. CONNOR

THE EXTENSION SERVICE

Invaluable services are rendered to the Texas farmer through the Extension Service, under the direction of Mr. H. H. Williamson. This department is a Federal-State-County agency and is constantly carrying on research in all phases of rural community development. The knowledge gained in this research is passed on to the people of this state through radio broadcasts and the Extension Service Farm News.

The Extension Service is not only concerned with the present problems that present themselves to the farmers of this state, but it is always endeavoring to better existing conditions by correcting past evils that are due to insufficient knowledge.

The President and the Board of Directors are responsible for the administration of this department. The constantly growing magnitude of this organization has served greatly to better the conditions of farm life in this state.

H. H. WILLIAMSON

ENGINEERING EXPERIMENT STATION

The establishment of the Engineering Experiment Station in 1914 was a forward step in engineering research. This organization is in conjunction with the School of Engineering and it has contributed much technical information that has been very valuable to engineering work in Texas. It has as yet received no appropriations from Congress, but despite this fact it has done some very excellent work along the engineering research line.

Dr. F. E. Giesecke is the head of the station and he is assisted by the Engineering Experiment Station Staff. This staff is selected from time to time from the various departments of the School of Engineering. The advisory council of the Experiment Station consists of these department heads.

DR. F. E. GIESECKE

T. F. MAYO

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY

The Cushing Memorial Library was erected in 1930. To date, more than 60,000 volumes, including the numerous Federal and State publications and documents, can be found on its shelves. The leading newspapers of Texas, all of the standard magazines, reviews and technical journals are received.

Dr. T. F. Mayo is chief librarian and is assisted by seven professional librarians and a number of students. Their work is efficient and their encouraging attitude is helpful to the students using the library.

In the library there is a periodical room, a lounge room, the main reading room where the students study, and the music room where the finest music of all ages and countries can be enjoyed.

J. E. MARSH

THE HOSPITAL

The College Hospital is truly a vital part of the college system, as its job is to preserve the health of more than 5,000 cadets. Dr. Marsh, in rendering courteous, cheerful, and efficient service, is assisted by eight full-time nurses, two technicians, and several students.

Aside from the ordinary hospital facilities there is an operating room, an X-ray machine, and a laboratory. Much congestion in the wards has been relieved by the recent addition of a wing to the hospital.

E. O. SIECKE

THE TEXAS FOREST SERVICE

The State Department of Forestry, under the jurisdiction of the directors of A. & M. College, has consistently developed the main lines of forestry activity. The Department was created in 1915. The State is fortunate to have men as capable as Mr. E. O. Siecke as head of its Forestry Service.

The Division of Forest Protection located at Lufkin is so organized as to educate the public in prevention and suppression of forest fires. On five State Forests the Service has many projects under way covering the field of forest protection, management, nursery practice, field planting, and other activities. Seedlings of various species of pine and hardwood are being cultivated by State Forest nurseries for reforestation.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

F. M. LAW
Chairman

The welfare of the students of A. & M. College rests in the hands of a group of men whose actions and services have indicated that they have this responsibility foremost in their minds. These men, The Board of Directors, are appointed by the Governor of the State for six year terms. Their many services and tireless efforts are rendered solely for the student body and the college. In rendering these services these men aid the development of the college probably more than any other supervisory group.

The Board has for its chairman Dr. F. M. Law, President of The First National Bank of Houston, Walter G. Lacey, President of The City National Bank of Waco, is Vice-President of the Board, and Mrs. Melle Williamson, of College Station, is acting Secretary. Other members are G. R. White of Brady, Texas; R. W. Briggs of Pharr, Texas; H. C. Schumacher of Houston, Texas; Edwin J. Kiest of Dallas, Texas; Joseph Utay of Dallas, Texas; Elliott Roosevelt of Fort Worth, Texas; and R. B. Robinson of Plainview, Texas.

The leftmost photo shows a young man and woman in military uniforms; the man is wearing a garrison cap and the woman is wearing a pilot's cap. The middle photo is a close-up of a large, dark sculpture of a reclining animal, possibly a bear or a large dog. The rightmost photo shows a person walking on a sidewalk in front of a building with many windows.

Call out the reserves, Keim is loose again.

Be patient boys, you'll get a court in two hours maybe.

What a man!

"Old Glory" passes and the parade is on.

The "Buggy Bays" step out in class.

Colonel Ed Lee seems to be enjoying it too.

The President returns the hearty welcome given him by the throng.

In perfect cadence.

"The Charge of the Light Brigade"—"Into the valley of death rode the six hundred." Not so, this was Troop "A's" day!

President Roosevelt tells President Walton that he did not think A. & M. was a Co-Ed School.

The President's "Address to the Farm Boys!"

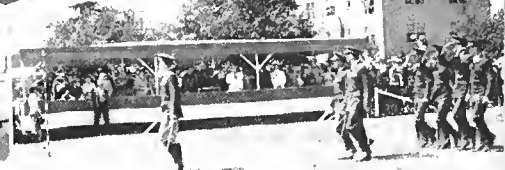

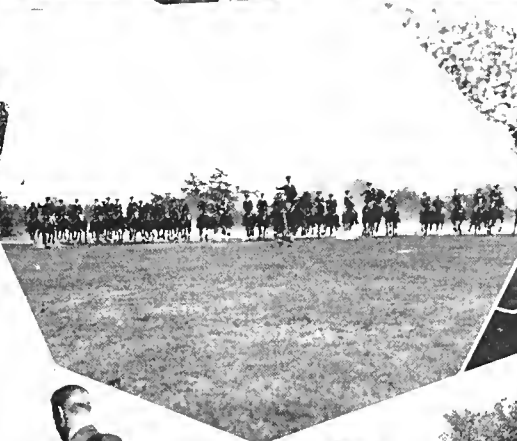

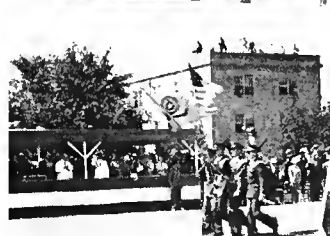

Eyes right!

Governor Jimmie Allred was there too, and not doing so badly by himself at that.

Always on guard!

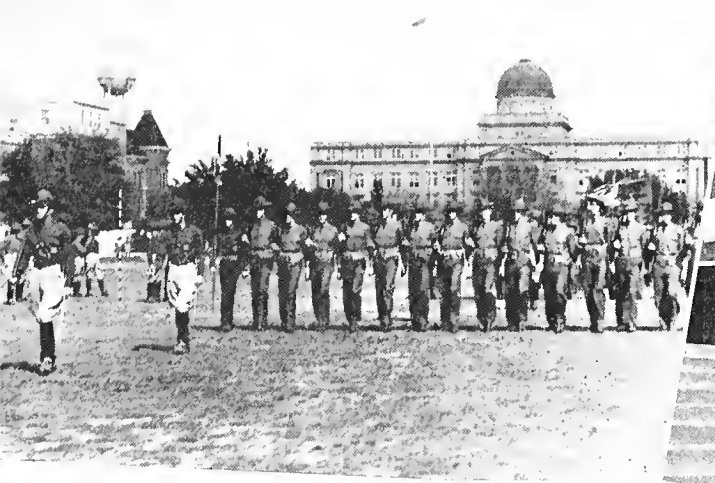

With brass shined, and trousers creased, the Cadets marched proudly by.

Farewell to Aggieland! We were signolly honored to have him as our guest.

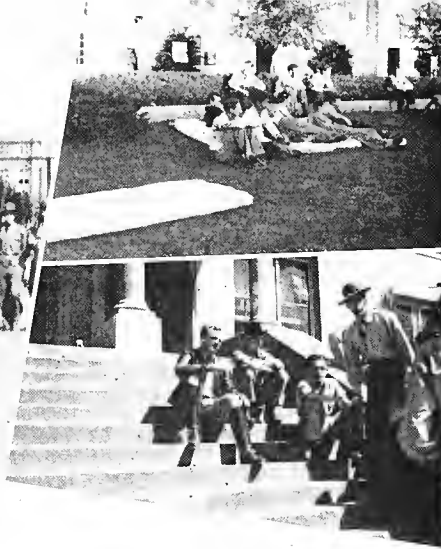

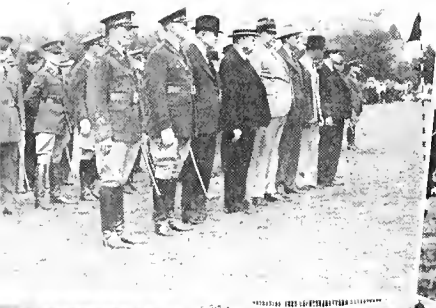

Eyes right.

Any afternoon.

If we, for a few moments, turn the clock backward we may discover why the Class of '39 may well be remembered as an outstanding Class. This, the greatest Junior Class in the History of the College, has been subjected to three years of culminating changes in student life at A. and M. College. The College is proud that the Class has succeeded in overcoming obstacles and still produced a well organized group of exceptionally versatile students.

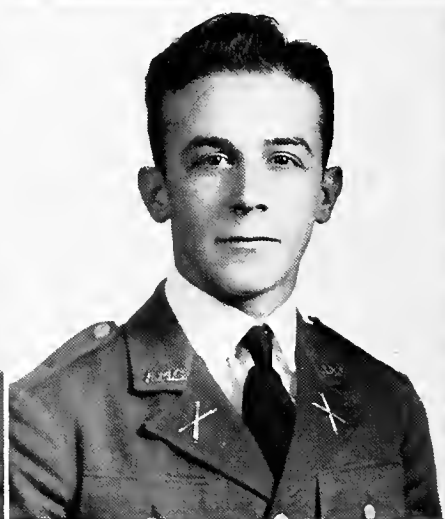

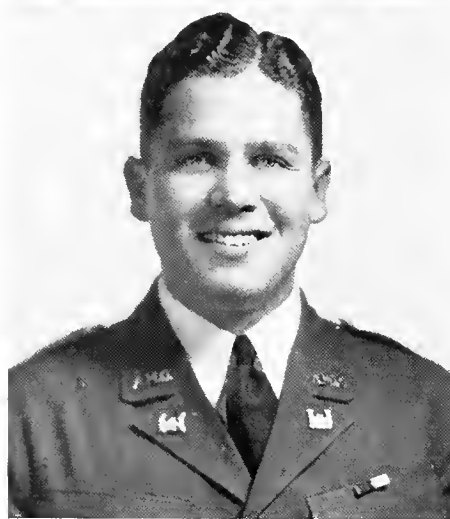

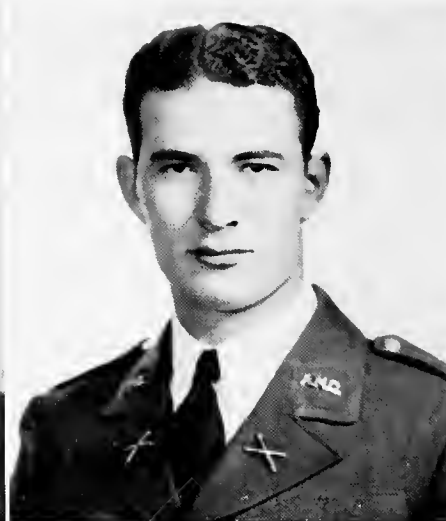

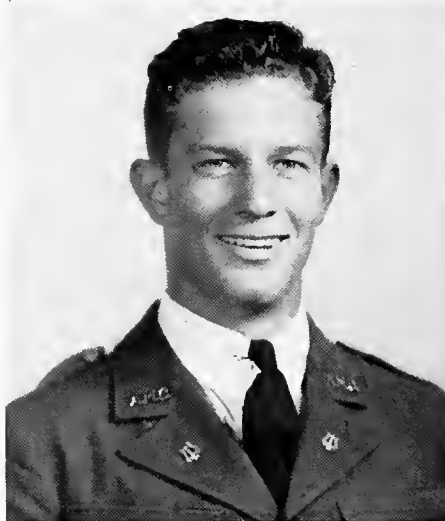

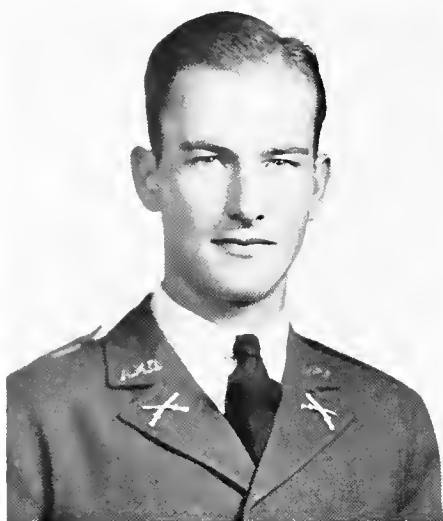

The Class has been well represented in all forms of college activities and organizations, and has very successfully and skillfully fulfilled its responsibilities.

By looking at the Class record we may predict that the Senior Class of '39 will still carry on to a still more successful year.

STEPHEN GIRARD BAILEY

In rendering a whole-hearted, unselfish service to the College and the development of student welfare, S. G. Bailey has been and will be remembered as one of the gang.

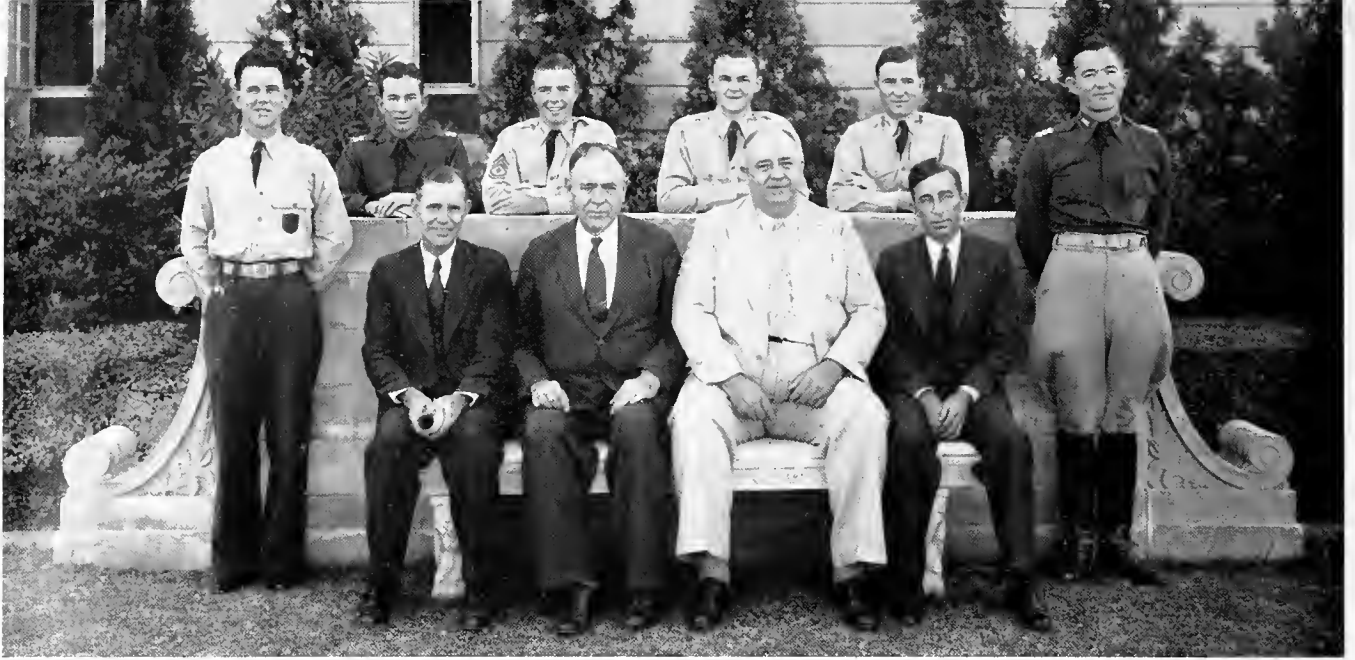

For years he served as executive secretary to the Board of Directors as well as secretary to President Walton, and during these years he added touches of his colorful personality which will not pass. Lest we forget this great character, who was one of the most prominent figures in Student Life and the man who guided the working boy of A. and M., to him we dedicate this page of the Longhorn.

STUDENT PUBLICATION BOARD

With the organization of the Student Publication Board in 1931 came the guidance and quality that is essential to campus publications. The Board has brought the students' publications to a point of maximum efficiency in both management and financial matters. The organization of the Board consists of Chairman F. C. Bolton, George B. Wilcox, Colonel Ike Ashburn, and Mr. E. L. Angell; the Editors of the various A. & M. Student Publications; and the Student Representatives to the Board. Under the eye of Mr. Angell the Longhorn, the Battalion, and the Scientific Review are formed and published, and all matters pertaining to editorial or financial matters of these publications are under his supervision. The Board manages the publishing of the Student Directories, the Y.M.C.A. handbooks, the football programs, and other programs and has done some very fine work in supervising these publications.

Because of the stability and quality that the Board has brought to the A. & M. campus publications, it is to be highly commended. The efficient representation that each class receives is due to the excellent work of these men, and too much praise cannot be given them.

Tony Gives The School Some Publicity

A. & M. NEWS SERVICE

Because of the fact that Aggieland is not located near any large city, it seems that the outside world would know little of the campus activities. But, despite this fact, A. & M. is probably better known to the people of the state than any of the other major colleges and universities of the South. This is all brought about by the A. & M. News Service under the direction of Colonel Ike Ashburn. Until this year the Service had been under the direction of Mr. Curtis Vinson, but with his departure, Colonel Ashburn has taken charge with the promise of bigger and better publicity for the college. Colonel Ashburn has a very efficient assistant in Mr. Thomas Ketterson who handles all of the publicity on athletic contests in which the Aggies participate.

The Service is in effect a clearing house for news items and special articles on college activities. Its principal duty is to inform the outside world of the happenings, and points of interest taking place on the campus. In addition to the regular duties of the department, it is called upon often to act as college host and to conduct first visitors around the college on request. The A. & M. News Service has rendered the college invaluable service and too much tribute cannot be paid Colonel Ashburn and Mr. Ketterson for their efforts.

COL. IKE ASHBURN

Where Exes are Always Welcome

THE TEXAS AGGIE

Graduation from Texas A. & M. does not mean that a man must discontinue his relations with the college, for he can keep an active interest in the school through the Texas Aggie. The Texas Aggie is the official publication of the Association of Former Students, and it is published twenty times a year under the careful supervision of Mr. E. E. McQuillen, who himself graduated with the Class of '20.

The aim of this newspaper is to maintain the contact between the former students of the college and the A. & M. College of today. It is really a one-man newspaper; the editor writes all the copy for the paper and arranges for the printing. Letters coming in from former students are printed for the benefit of friends desiring to correspond with their old classmates. Standing behind the Texas Aggie in every way is the Association of Former Students. Officers of the Alumni Association for the current year include: Mr. F. D. Perkins, '97, McKinney, president; Mr. C. L. Babcock, '18, Beaumont, vice-president; Mr. E. E. McQuillen, '20, College Station, secretary; and Mr. L. B. Locke, '18, College Station, assistant secretary.

Mr. E. E. McQUILLEN

The "Bat" Comes Off The Press

A. & M. PRESS

The A. & M. Press has been most successful in its efforts to give A. & M. College both economy and service. Under the careful supervision of Mr. C. S. Hoyle, Director, the A. & M. Press has gained a position probably without a superior in any Southern institution.

The Press prints the Daily Bulletin at no cost to the college, and it employs twelve students at part-time work to handle the large quantity of work that it turns out. Besides the Daily Bulletin, the A. & M. Press also prints the Battalion, the Scientific Review, the Texas Aggie, the Extension Service Farm News, the Forestry News, and various other specials such as football programs and student directories.

For the great progress that the A. & M. Press has made, Mr. Hoyle and his most efficient staff are to be highly complimented. Additional modern machinery is constantly being installed to care for the ever-increasing scope of activity.

Mr. C. S. HOYLE

SENIOR LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM

In 1937, the Senior Livestock Judging Team competed in two of the major livestock judging contests held in the country. In Kansas City, Missouri, at the American Royal Livestock Show, held in October of each year, the team was one of fourteen entered, and ranked fifth. Later, in November, at Chicago, during the International Livestock Exposition, the team was in competition with twenty-four other agricultural college teams, one of which was from Ontario, Canada. This contest did not hold so much good fortune for the boys, as they ranked fourteenth. However, the success and knowledge gained cannot be measured by contest rank, but from the actual reasoning ability, self-confidence, and expressiveness attained through long hours of practice, and from the broadening of knowledge and outlook derived from the trips to and from the contests. These trips took three weeks of the students' time during the Fall term, one week to attend the Kansas City Show and two weeks to go to Chicago.

The team membership consists of:

W. C. Askew, Coolidge, Texas

A. P. Bailey, Ballinger, Texas

G. V. Bradley, Dublin, Texas

A. H. McCutcheon, Ft. Davis, Texas

G. A. Harper, Gatesville, Texas

Louis Nagy, Cotulla, Texas

N. G. Schuessler, Coach

It should be stated here that the members unanimously give full credit to their coach, Mr. N. G. Schuessler, in his second year of intercollegiate coaching, for any success they may have achieved and for the inestimable value this work will undoubtedly be to them in the years to come. A great debt of gratitude is also due the Saddle and Sirloin Club, particularly its Junior members for the financial help given as a result of their work on the rodeo.

POULTRY JUDGING TEAM

During a period of ten days the Texas A. & M. Poultry Judging Team traveled a total of 3000 miles sight-seeing, investigating, and inspecting leading poultry breeding farms, hatcheries, meat packing plants, and state agricultural colleges, in seven states.

The Poultry Judging Team, coached by Professor W. F. Munnerlyn, and composed of E. R. Carter, Stephenville; C. W. Carter, Abilene; W. J. Moore, Mt. Vernon; and O. B. Schwertner, Schwertner, Texas, won fifth place in the Midwest Poultry Judging contest held in Chicago, late in November. C. W. Carter, placing third in the contest, was the Aggies' high individual scorer.

The contest was made up of three separate divisions, Exhibition, Production and Market Products. Each division included five classes.

The team expresses its appreciation to the Junior Members of the Poultry and Egg Club for their co-operation in helping provide for the trip.

NATIONAL DAIRY JUDGING TEAM

★ The Texas A. & M. Dairy Cattle Judging Team won first place at the National Dairy Show in Columbus, Ohio this year. Mr. C. L. Burlingham, Manager of the National Dairy Show said that this year's team made the best record of any college judging team in twenty-five years.

☐ The winning of this national recognition has climaxed the success of all judging teams coached by A. L. Darnell in the past 15 years. This team won the highest distinction that a dairy judging team aims at—winning the judging contest at the "National."

⊖ These boys and Coach Darnell also did their share in upholding the prestige of Texas A. & M. by winning second place at the Southwestern Exposition in Fort Worth last spring.

☪ The team expresses its appreciation to all members of the Kream & Kow Klub and the Dairy Department who had a part in boosting the team, and in raising funds to send the team on its successful trip.

☪ The members of the team are:

Joe W. Bradley, Dublin, Texas

Noel C. Fry, Dublin, Texas

Morris S. Jones, Dublin, Texas

★ Clyde H. Wells, Stephenville, Texas

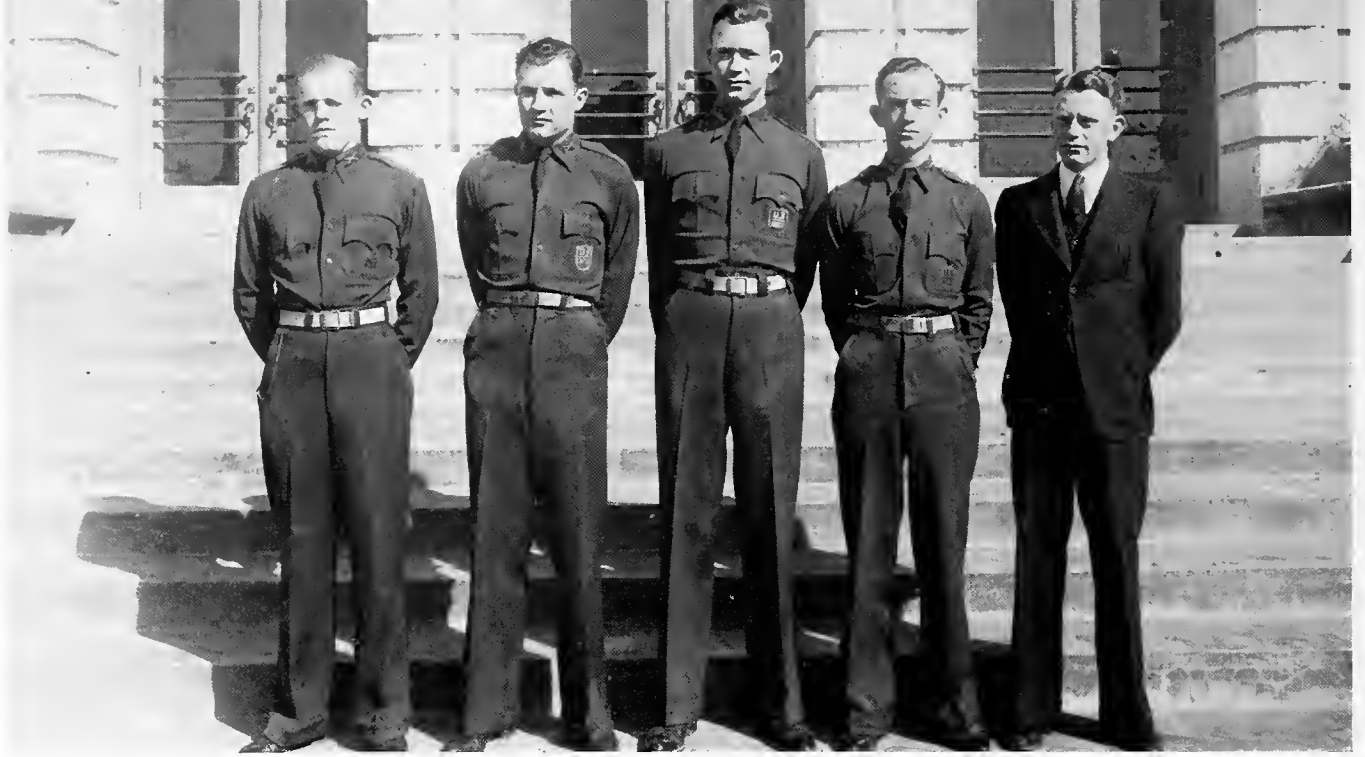

DAIRY PRODUCTS JUDGING TEAM

During the past year A. and M. put out its first Dairy Products Judging Team. Due to the fact that the team was not organized until late in the year, it did not enter but one meet—the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Exposition—in which it placed fourth.

Due to the late start the team was poorly organized, but with a year's experience behind it, great things are expected of next year's team.

Enough credit cannot be given to A. V. Moore, who in his first year at A. and M. College took an inexperienced group of boys and trained them into a creditable team. This is the first collegiate team that Mr. Moore has ever coached, and the team sincerely hopes that he will attain great success in his future undertakings.

The team was composed of E. J. Gunn, of Daingerfield; Roland S. Torn, Taylor; Wade W. Hodges, Dublin; and R. A. Scott, Olney. The team did as well as could be expected under the circumstances and much praise is due it for its excellent work.

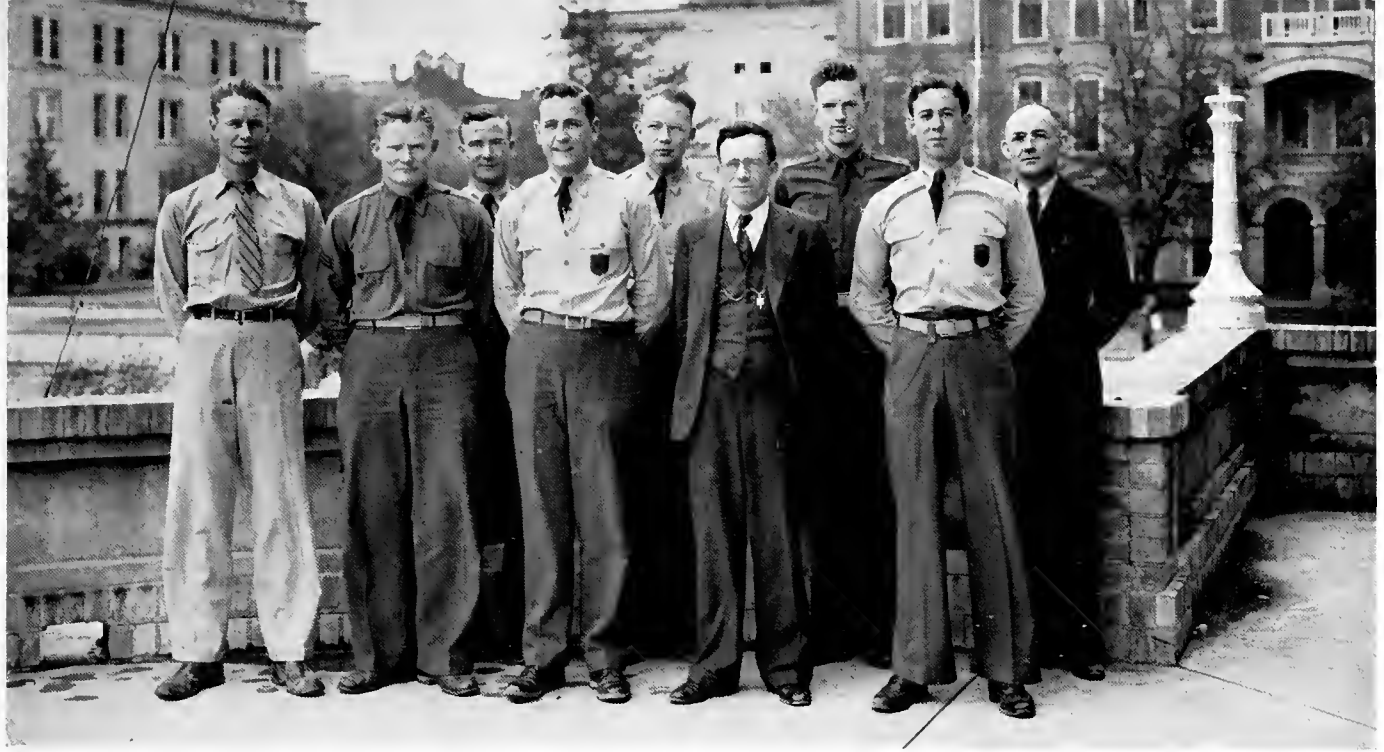

INTERNATIONAL CROPS JUDGING TEAM

The Texas A. & M. Crops Judging Team, coached by Professor R. C. Potts, participated in two intercollegiate contests. The first contest was held at Kansas City on November 20th, and the team—made up of J. W. Collier, R. S. Elliott, and W. A. Gwin—won seventh place. The contest was divided into three parts: identification of 180 crops, diseases, and weeds in the United States; commercial grading of grain, cotton, and hay; and the commercial judging of corn, wheat, barley, oats, and small seeds. Collier won fifth place with a score of 597.6 out of possible 600 in identification and Gwin won first place with a perfect score in commercial grading of cotton.

At Chicago, the team composed of Collier, Elliott, and P. M. Mebane, placed eighth in the contest where eleven teams competed. Collier placed eighth in individual placements. The team placed third in judging, eighth in commercial grading, and eighth in identification.

After travelling over 3000 miles, visiting such colleges and universities as Oklahoma A. & M., University of Missouri, and University of Illinois, the members of the team feel confident that the trip has been an outstanding event of their school career.

THE DEBATE CLUB

W. W. DOWNER.....President

R. L. DOSS.....Secretary-Treasurer

Through a season of intensive forensic activity has gone the A. and M. Debate Club. Little publicized, the members of the club, selected because of speaking ability and interest in argumentation, made good showings for the College in several tournaments and individual contests. The tournament season was climaxed by the University of Texas tournament, where the two A. and M. teams entered, composed of Mayo Thompson and R. L. Doss, and W. W. Downer and R. B. Glasgow, were ranked second as affirmative and negative teams. Later in the year the Aggies devoted their time to debates with Southern and Southwestern colleges in individual style rather than tournament fashion.

A compilation of results of the Aggies' debates this year is impossible because of the fact that most of the contests have been of the no-decision type. Colleges and universities debated included the University of Texas, Baylor University, Southern Methodist University, Texas Christian University, Emory University of Georgia, Louisiana State University, Centenary College, Sam Houston State Teachers College, San Marcos State Teachers College, Trinity University, McMurray College, and many others. Most of the debates were held away from College Station, although several were staged here late in the season.

The teams were coached by Professors C. O. Spriggs and R. M. Weaver of the public speaking division of the Department of English. Dr. George Summey, Jr., head of the English Department, is faculty sponsor.

THE AGGIELAND ORCHESTRA

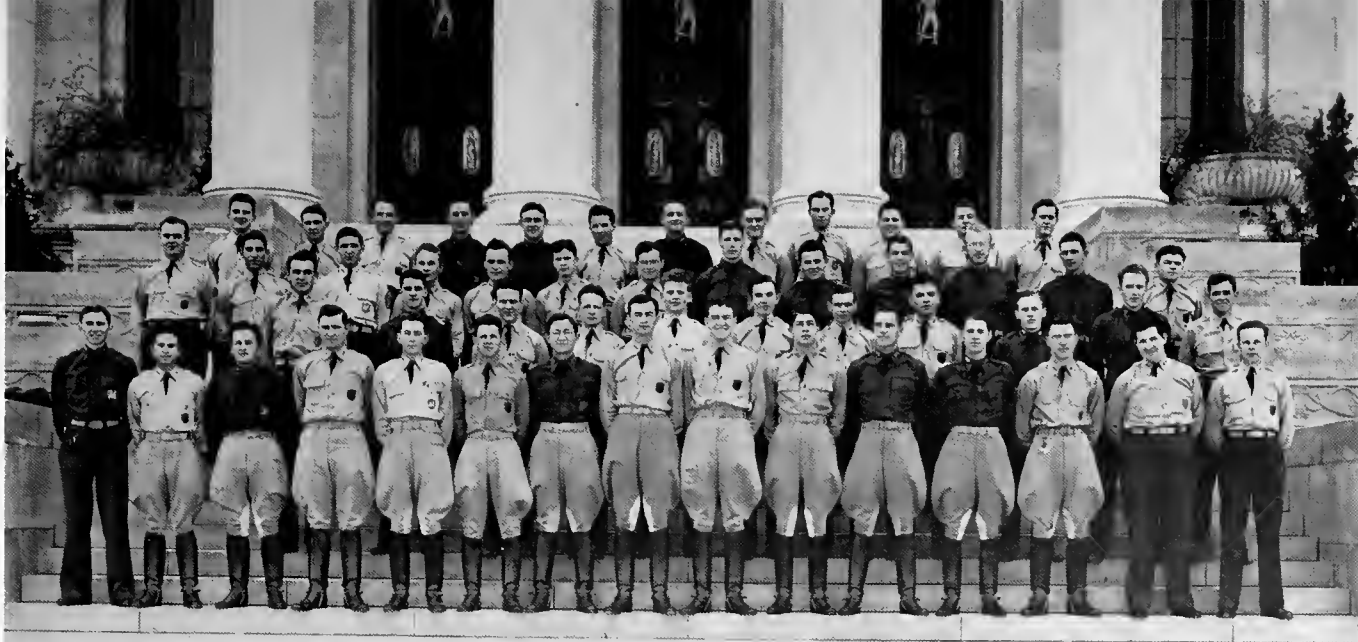

Every cadet on the campus is proud of the famous Aggieland Swing Band, but the fame of their orchestra is not limited by any means to the college campus. Indeed, Russ Hillier and his band are known all over the state. The orchestra is in great demand for all Aggie dances, and it frequently plays for dances in towns and cities all over the state.

For the past three years the orchestra has been under the supervision of Russ Hillier, and Russ's famous congenial and friendly attitude is a very attractive feature of the band.

When the holidays come, the Aggieland orchestra is always booked for every night, and any home-town club is lucky to have it play for its dance. This great band adds a distinctive touch to any Aggie dance, and it is truly typical of that great Aggie fun-loving spirit.

FELLOWSHIP . .

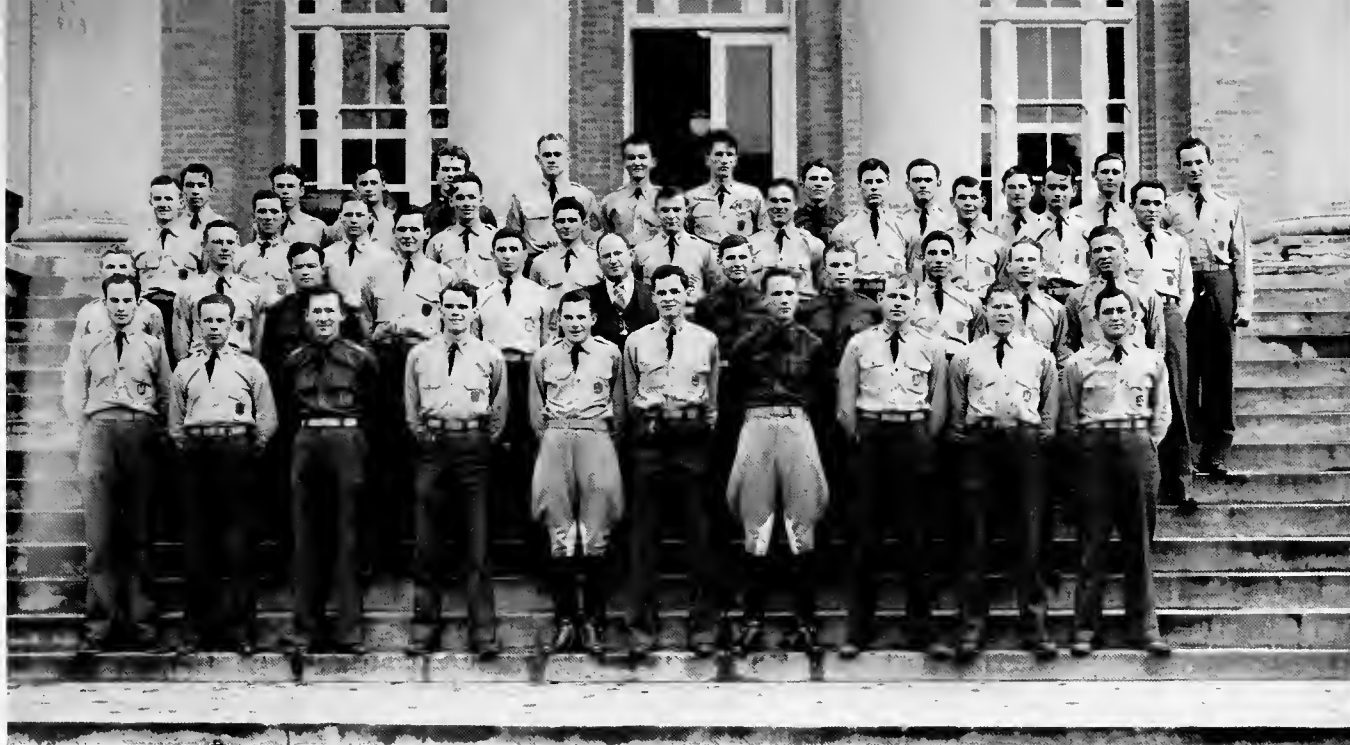

Y. M. C. A. COUNCIL

The educational and religious activities of a college student go hand in hand. The Young Men's Christian Association has for its purpose the broadening of the religious life of students and the supplementing of the educational program of the school.

Among the religious activities, conferences are held, speakers of national reputation give lectures, and devotional programs are planned and given throughout the year. All these bring about a greater appreciation of the students' work and a better understanding of fellowship. Picture shows, bowling alleys, billiard tables, and various other small games are offered by the Y. M. C. A. for the students' recreation and exercise. The Cosmopolitan Club is approved by the Council, and through it an endeavor is made to bring about a better international feeling among the students.

Opportunities are offered for students to learn the etiquette of formal and informal affairs, and many books and newspapers are distributed for the students to read. The Council is constantly ready and willing to be of useful service that might help the students in any way.

 DAVID B. THRIFT Vice-President
 SEIICHI SAKAMOTO Secretary
 R. CLINTON BECK Treasurer

Under the able leadership of M. L. Cashion and his staff—J. G. Gay, Jeff Horn and D. H. Jackson—the Senior Y. M. C. A. Cabinet during the past year has won much recognition over the campuses of A. & M. and other colleges and universities because it has worked with the purpose of elevating the social, moral, and spiritual standards of all students, regardless of the college standing, race, or religion.

This year men were sent to Hollister Summer Camp in Missouri, to the Nation Assembly in Ohio, to the Blue Ridge Conference in North Carolina. Also representatives were sent to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. conferences at Austin, Huntsville, Houston, and Prairie View.

Some of the prominent work was organizing the Freshman Cabinet, the Freshman Discussion Groups, the Sophomore Fellowship Group, the Sophomore Discussion Groups, the Junior and Senior Discussion Groups, and the Cosmopolitan and International Club.

The Newman Club here, as at other Colleges and Universities throughout the nation, carries out a program of religious discussions and social activity, which characterizes the Catholic group.

The Catholic group is indeed fortunate in having its activities directed by Monsignore Gleisner who has been Chaplain for the Catholic boys here at A. and M. for over thirty-five years. Monsignore Gleisner has seen "his boys" increase in number from six to over three hundred, which is the number at present.

Mass is held at 9:30 A.M. each Sunday and at 5:45 A.M. on Holy Days of Obligation and first Fridays of each month. Evening services are held on Sundays and twice weekly during Lent.

The beautiful St. Mary's Chapel which is located north of the campus was built by the Knights of Columbus some years ago and was remodeled by them two years ago.

There are religious discussions held weekly under the direction of Father Valenta. The social program includes dances sponsored alternately by the Newman Club and their good friends the Children of Mary of Bryan.

Mr. Sidney L. Loveless, Editor,
1938 Longhorn,
Box 2903,
College Station, Texas.

Dear Mr. Loveless:

May I take this opportunity of congratulating you upon having such a lovely aggregation of girls submitted for your Vanity Fair section, although it makes my task the more difficult. As you probably know, photographs can be very deceptive--they can flatter a subject, or, on the other hand, as is much more often the case, a photograph doesn't do full justice to the beauty and charm of the girl herself. And, unfortunately, a picture can't even suggest personality which is so intrinsic an element of beauty.

There are so many types of beauty -- the pert, the glamorous, the sophisticated, the demure, etc. Personally, I have no preference as to type, but, in selecting a beautiful girl for the stage or screen, there are many points too numerous to mention which must always be taken into consideration: her figure, her face, the contours, forehead, eyes, nose, mouth, stance, personality, etc. In selecting from photographs, one is at somewhat of a disadvantage in not being able to see the girls in the flesh. And, as I have said, personality is so important.

However, I have tried to do my level best in scrutinizing all the photographs you submitted, and the following girls are my selection:

Eloise Hunt
Charlotte Drouet
Maxine Doak
Evelyn Newman
Iris Arcularius
Elizabeth Harris
Maulice Searcy
Dorothy House

To those girls who don't happen to be among the eight, may I again repeat myself and say that, without exception, they were all so attractive and lovely that it was difficult to make any choice.

Yours very truly,
Buddy Berkeley

INFANTRY CAMP CAMP BULLIS, TEXAS

"Every day just like Sunday on the farm" . . . What does she say, telephone girl . . . Castleberry and Dusty Robinson furl tent and clean rifle . . . Camp's daily dozen . . . "Frank, clean this for me and I'll put in a good word for you to the major." . . . Spareparts' command . . . Clark and a machine belt . . . You're out of place, Joe . . . Three cocky soldiers . . . Tsh, Tsh, a new captain should be more military . . . "Every day a paid vacation" . . . Time out for Colonel Beasley's brew . . . Food a la truck . . . A good ending to a bad beginning . . . Sergeant Shoakes of T.M.I. . . . Guess what . . . A pose for Pepsodent.

INFANTRY CAMP CAMP BULLIS, TEXAS

July 4! Monterrey, here we are . . .
Some Aggie did all right . . . Refueling
. . . Did you hit it, Raleigh? . . . Spare-parts, Jr. gives instructions . . . Colonel Yezak in hog heaven . . . The military genius takes a rest . . . Jack Rogers with Maggie's drawers . . . Off for the hike
. . . Sherrill looks like a buck private from the rear rank . . . Food in the forest . . .
The stink bombers slipped into camp
. . . What the well-dressed soldier will wear . . . Which eye, Campbell?

FIELD ARTILLERY CAMP CAMP BULLIS, TEXAS

Bet they're shooting dice . . . The best part of the day . . . Three of a kind or sumpin . . . John's in this one too . . . Up at the O. P. . . . Hello, could I speak to Sidney, please . . . This boy and the A. & M. corps get letters from L. Street . . . If my Sidney were only here . . . Number four—fire! . . . Directing fire at the O. P. . . . He haunts houses as a sideline . . . A direct hit—He hopes . . . Whitmore's summer camp for boys . . . Why the tax payers cuss.

FIELD ARTILLERY CAMP CAMP BULLIS, TEXAS

I'd swear it's Roark? . . . A gallon of beer would have been much better . . . Fletcher and Martin "Sign up Albrecht" . . . Time for chow . . . The British have a name for it . . . Let John and Bill play some . . . If Esquire could have only seen them . . . Why White—Mr. White, is Lt. Colonel . . . "Dapper" on soap—We take Dapper—we got soap . . . Three Big Noises . . . Here comes the truck . . . They call him "Baby Face Austin" . . . A scholar and a rogue . . . Sense it—Wild Bill—Sense it . . . Three times a day and we cussed Duncan . . . He's just fixing a tent rope.

SIGNAL CORPS CAMP CAMP BULLIS, TEXAS

It's too bad, Fritz, that we all aren't that good . . . Deadeye Sample . . . Extra duty isn't any harder than you make it . . . Instead of Red and White it's Brown and Green . . . Fire at Will . . . Tent mates—"Fuzzy," Billy, Mac and Attie. Wotta tent!! . . . With Bob Gerdes at the control we should get some wire laid. In our opinion . . . "Chocs." Just a bunch of bottle babies . . . Crank 'er up Bell, we are signing off! . . . Rogers, Brown and Gerdes seem to be on friendly terms with this bullet slinging half tract . . . Stoogme, is that any stance for a Major?? . . . Why Satch, we are ashamed of you. Anybody could do that good.

CHEMICAL WARFARE CAMP EDGEWOOD ARSENAL MARYLAND

Captain Shaddle's "Toy tank" mounted with a 4.2 mortar . . . Culmination of five hours march on the overnight hike . . . "Corporal" Dempwolf in charge of the gun . . . Fire observation tower. The officers got a bigger kick out of solving the problem than we did . . . Eddie must be thinking of those "ghastly" prison bars awaiting him in Baltimore . . . Buttrill thinks? "Oh that I were with that Maryland lass." Buttrill remembers! "You can tell the young gentleman he can go home now and he needn't come back." . . . The new 4.2 Chemical mortar, surface set-up . . . "Benchmark" O'Brien—Pride of M.I.T., awaits a crack at the water wagon . . . Texas delegates on the steps of the Capitol in Washington after an unsuccessful attempt at visiting the "Prexy" . . . Officers must play. "Stink bombing" performed for the Officers Chemical Warfare School . . . Why the procrastination? Orders from Headquarters, no doubt . . . "Bird-dogging" goes North—You might know where you find Gaither, Gaskell, Dempwolf and "Arky" you find "bird-dogging" too . . . Two "double plug uglies" aiming to get you, and I really mean you.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

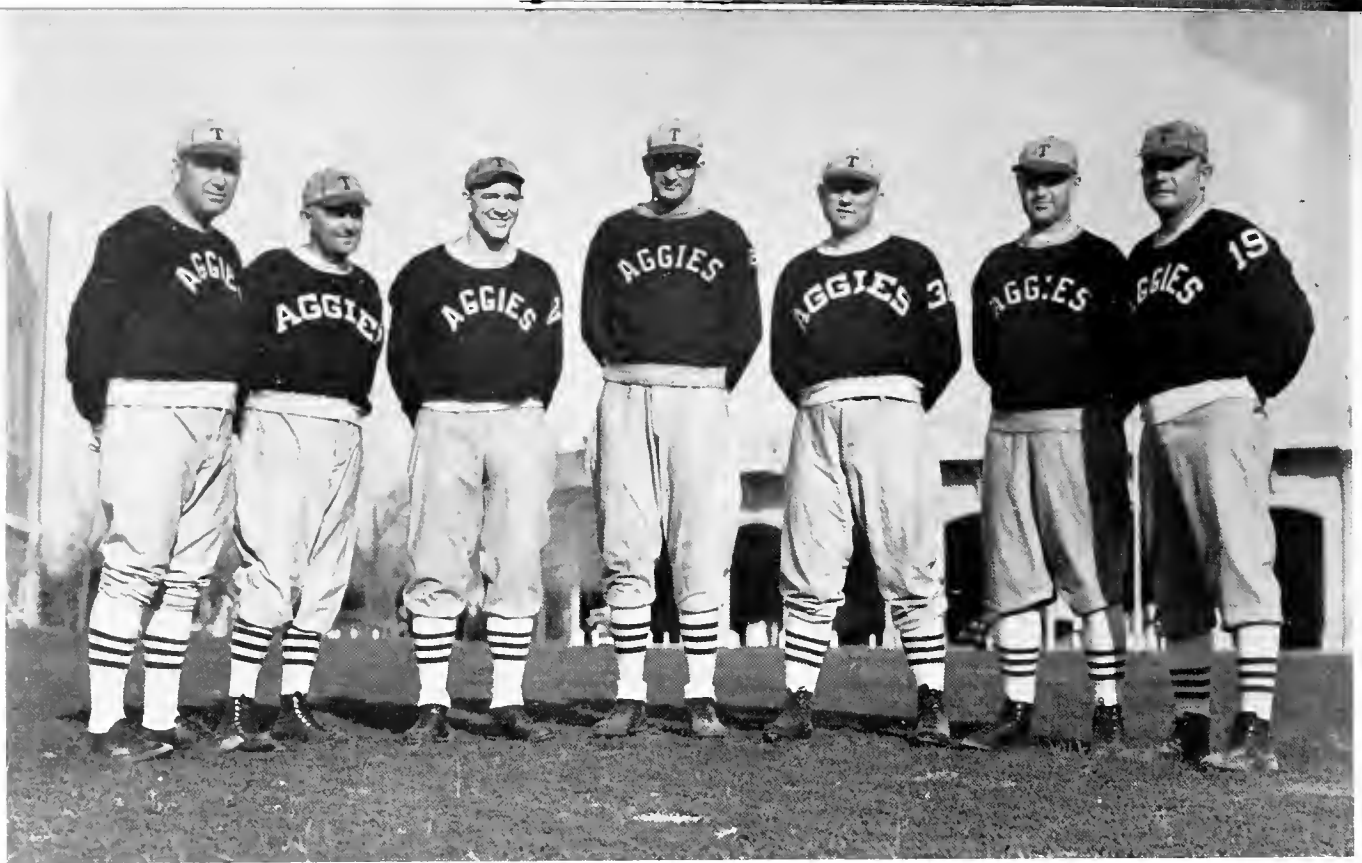

E. J. KYLE

This group, composed of Dean Kyle, Mr. Howell, Mr. Crawford, Coach Norton, Mr. Hooker, Mr. Bell, Mr. Pfaff, and Dick Vitek, represents the college in all matters regarding the status of athletics at A. & M. On most matters, however, they act merely as an advisory group, with the technical details left to the Department of Physical Education.

Some of the problems confronting this group are the arranging of schedules, purchasing of equipment, handling and distributing tickets for all athletic contests, maintaining an efficient coaching staff, and many other minor details connected with raising A. & M.'s prestige among the leading colleges and universities in an athletic way.

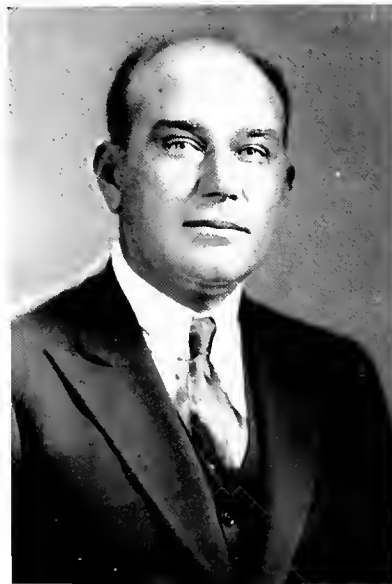

Probably no more capable a group could have been chosen, as these eight men have faithfully discharged their duties, and have done much in placing the A. & M. athletic situation foremost in the South.

Mr. Hooker is the Secretary of this group, and he has done much to increase the efficiency of their duties. He has worked faithfully on all matters pertaining to the college's welfare, and is deserving of much praise in this capacity.

COACH NORTON

COACHING STAFF

This year marks the end of Coach Homer Norton's fourth season as head of the Athletic Department at A. & M. During this time he has pulled the Aggies up from the depths of the football world to national recognition. His regime has been one of harmony and has been characterized by repeated expressions of support and friendship by both former students and students. Coach Norton has had the fortune of being ably assisted by one of the greatest coaching staffs ever assembled. Bill James has built the greatest line in the history of A. & M. College. Dough Rollins has handled the business end of the department and coached the track team. J. V. Sikes brought a championship baseball team home and served as chief scout. Hub McQuillen, a strong teacher of fundamentals, has installed these in both the fish football team and the varsity basketball squad. Lil Dimmitt has kept the boys in the best physical condition, while Monning Smith has greatly assisted in handling the backfield.

TRAIL, HABLE, HARRIS, ASTON

PAUL HABLE

YELL STAFF

In spite of the many forestalling handicaps stacked against them, the Yell Staff of '38 did a formidable job in holding the "twelfth man" together. Paul Hable was "chief," ably assisted by Jimmy Harris, Senior Assistant, and the two Junior Assistants, Charlie Trail and "Hub" Aston.

Paul, facing the largest Cadet Corps in A. & M.'s history, was put to task in organizing the Corps. From the beginning, at College Night, until the last yell practice before the San Francisco game, it was evident that Paul and his staff had done their job well. Comments from outside observers point to this year's Corps as being not only the largest but the best in the history of the school.

The yell leaders were faced with the problem of instilling the old traditions into the students, and also innovating many practices to keep trend with the times. Their primary function is to put that "old Aggie Spirit" in the newcomers, and no one can doubt that this quartet discharged their duty successfully.

These four men's job is a tireless one. The Corps' showing this year reflects their ability.

COACH NORTON

When it seems the game is lost,
Keep a-goin'.

Do not stop at any cost—
Keep a-goin'.

Don't ever think that you can't win it,
A fightin' team is always in it.
So don't let up a single minute,

Todd Goes through the Center of the Manhattan Line

AGGIES COME FROM BEHIND TO DOWN MANHATTAN

A slumbering giant for fifty-two minutes, the Aggies awakened in the last eight to unleash the full fury of the running and passing game against Manhattan at the Polo Grounds in New York. Manhattan was leading the Farmers at the end of the third period 7-0. But there was too much dynamite compressed in the Aggie backfield to stay undetonated for the full distance, and when it exploded it blasted Manhattan right off the field. Manhattan was battle-worn and shell-shocked at the finish. The Green Wave was mouse-trapped and cross-checked to a fare-thee-well and the deceptiveness of the Aggie attack and backs was too much to be halted. As the game began to draw to a close the seven-point lead of Manhattan looked as if it would be enough to win the ball game. But then, and not until then, did the handwriting appear on the wall. But it was clear for all to see that the Aggies were in motion. They had passed so much a bit earlier that the Jasper line was a succession of yawning holes. Through these holes the Farmers began to drive. In three plays they whirled from the 43 to the 7 and then "Bounding Bob" Nesrsta drove the ball across the line. The next score came four minutes later. Mills, Todd and Rogers carried the ball forty yards, and then Mills threw a perfect strike to Rogers who out-stepped all defenders to score. Mills, Rogers, Todd, and Nesrsta carried the offensive punch behind blocking that became increasingly effective. Joe Routt, Virgil Jones, and Roy Young were the main stars in the line, breaking through time and time again to throw Jasper backs for a lass.

Manhattan Tries the Center of the Aggie Line

Although hampered by injuries during the season, Bobby Nesrsta made his mark on opposition. Bobby was a boy who cleared the way to add to his ability as a ball-carrier.

Joe Routt was the first Aggie athlete to have received All-American acclaim. His choice for two consecutive years leaves little in regard to his merit as an athlete. He cannot be described as a man, but as a side of a line.

Dick Todd was the most feared broken field runner in the Conference. The opposition would seldom ever kick to him as it would usually prove very dangerous. He was truly a "sixty minute man" and bore the brunt of the back-field duties.

Joe Turner ably held down the pivot position. His snap backs were always to the point, and he backed up the line with the vigil of a giant. Joe's job was intensified as the team used a five-man line most of the year.

"Dub" Boyd was the man with the educated toe. Although he understudied Dick Todd, he got in on lots of the ball games, chiefly because he was a dependable performer. His toe has sent the ball through the crossbars many times this year for the one-points.

AGGIES WIN INTERSECTIONAL TILT

Deadly Dick Todd's churning feet again carried the Aggies to another intersectional victory on October 9 at Tyler, a 14-0 conquest of a Mississippi State team that threatened only once. It was Todd's uncanny broken field running in the first half that sparked the Aggies to near perfect football—football that showed they had rolled up 8 first downs and 135 yards to Mississippi State's minus one yard during the first half. Todd started with the opening kick-off which he returned forty yards. The Aggies, featuring Todd's three consecutive first-down thrusts over tackle, and Jim Shockey's 17-yard heave to Rogers, to the Mississippi seven, hung out the indicator in the first five minutes of play. The Aggies' drive was temporarily halted there, but it flared up again in the second period that brought both scores. Virgil Jones, who stood out like a lighthouse in line play, pounced on a Mississippi fumble in the second period. Ken Mills then contacted Todd with a six-yard pass and Nesrsta went over for the score. Todd kicked the extra point. Backed down against their goal line by Mills' coffin corner kicking, Mississippi booted the ball forty-five yards and straight into Todd's arms. He cut to the left, ducked through two tacklers and went for a touchdown. Again Todd kicked the extra point. Only Virgil Jones and his fast stepping mate, Slick Rogers, could touch the fast stepping Todd for the day's glory. Jones intercepted two passes, recovered a fumble and stayed in the Bulldogs backfield. Rogers called a great ball game and did swell work carrying the ball.

AGGIES

Marion Church was the aggressive, fight to win sort of player that any team would like to have. His position was almost impregnable to the opposition, and when he cut them down they stayed that way.

Dick Vitek was one of the shrewdest signal-breakers in the Conference. His chief duty besides being field general, was blocking, but he could always be called upon to make a few yards when the going was rough.

Ken Mills was probably the most accurate passer and kicker on the squad. His long, accurate heaves in several games saved the day. To add to his versatility, he was quite elusive in carrying the pigskin.

Bruno Schroeder was converted from the fullback post to end, and before the season had progressed long, had proved to his most harsh critics that he was plenty capable. He was a tower on defense, and could get up into the air for those passes.

Bill Audish did not come into his own until mid-season, but once he got started it was a job to stop him. It was he who was always called upon to make those last few precious yards to the goal line.

Rogers Went High To Get This One

AGGIES AND FROGS BATTLE TO 7-7 TIE IN MUD

Thirty thousand spectators crowded the Frog Stadium in Fort Worth on the afternoon of October the sixteenth and sat through a steady downpour and saw the Frogs get a half dozen breaks during the game. But those hard fighting Aggies refused to give ground and it was midway in the third period before either team scored. The Frogs got a half dozen breaks during the day, but only once did they capitalize. A lazy punt that went out of bounds after fifteen yards in fair territory gave them a scoring chance that they accepted. Hearts of A. & M. supporters sank in their shoes when Dick Todd limped off the field with five minutes left to play. Ired by the loss of their leader the cadets went to work. They marched forty-five yards without the loss of the ball to score six points and then kicked the goal for the tie. A. & M. struck through the air to make the last nineteen yards of the drive. It was fourth down and seven to go, when Herb Smith gathered the long spiralling pass from Ken Mills, down in the end zone. Walemon Price trotted in to try for the extra point and sent it between the middle of the uprights. The game was a battle between two powerful lines, with the great forward wall of the Aggies having the edge. Only once during the afternoon, were the Frogs able to penetrate inside the thirty yard line, and this resulted in a touchdown. The Aggies gained 236 yards on runs and passes while the Christians netted 182, and their seven first downs were more than the Frogs bagged, but the fumble column showed the Aggies dropped the ball eight times with T.C.U. recovering three which made the difference of the day.

Price Takes Out Down The Sideline

T. C. U. Completes A Long Pass

Bill Minnock was assigned the job of playing the same position as Joe Routt, which was quite an assignment. Bill was a valuable man to have around as he was a bulwark on defense, and could cut the opposition down with ease.

Virgil Jones was Joe Routt's running mate on the other guard. Virgil was unanimously acclaimed by all critics as all-Conference, and was a serious contender for All-American honors. Virgil was an indispensable cog in an almost flawless machine, the Aggie line.

AGGIES

Jim Shockey was the blocking half on the team, so essential to a real football eleven. Jim's accurate left-handed heaves were an important factor in the team's success. He was a mainstay in a smooth functioning backfield.

"Teff" Sikes was a substitute end. He was a valuable man to the team, and whenever called upon was ready with that characteristic fight and determination that is always foremost in an Aggie's mind.

Henry Dittman was a substitute back. Henry always was dangerous when in the game. He could hit the line with as much drive as anyone, and when shaken into the loose in a broken field was ever a dangerous threat.

Todd Dives for that Extra Yard

BAYLOR'S AERIAL ATTACK DOWNS AGGIES

The Aggie hope for the Conference title suffered a severe jolt when they were stopped by the Baylor Bears on Kyle Field 13-0. The first direct hit came five minutes after the game started. Boyd, a rangy end with lots of speed, made a running catch of a fifty-yard pass from Patterson and stepped across the line. From here the game see-sawed back and forth, featuring outstanding line play by both teams with the Aggies having a slight edge. Time after time it seemed as if the great machine of the Baylor Bears would swing into action only to be halted by the great forward wall of the Aggies, which was something to see. The Bear's second touchdown came in the third period. Patterson maneuvered the Bears up the field into scoring position and then shot a beautiful pass to Huessner who raced five yards for the marker. Late in the fourth quarter, the Aggies started a drive that seemed destined for a score, only to lose the ball on downs on the five-yard line. Mills passed to Smith for 17; another pass to Smith put the ball on the 38. Two straight first downs on passes, one to Smith, the other to Todd put the ball, on the 10. Todd carried the ball to the five, but here the Aggies lost the ball on downs. The Aggies were not without stars. Joe Routt and Brahma Jones covered themselves with glory by their marvelous work at the guard positions. Herb Smith and Bruno Schroeder played great defensive ball. White teamed with Smith to snatch Mills' passes and make the passing attack into one big threat. Dick Todd got off a few pretty runs though he could never shake loose.

Dick Todd Receives o Punt

The Aggie Line in Action

George Bransom was ever dependable at his tackle post. When the going was rough, George's position was securely taken care of. It was George, too, that paved the way for the backs in many cases.

Roy Young was chosen All-Conference for the second consecutive year. Little more could be said in regard to Roy's ability, but to say that he was one of the mainstays in the great Aggie forward wall is descriptive enough.

Zed Coston was one of the heftiest centers in the Conference. He was also the most rugged when the going was rough. Zed, regardless of his size, was fast in getting to the scene of action.

Little Herb Smith developed faster than any man on the squad. He may be termed as "Herb, the giant killer," as his specialty was throwing the big fellows for a loss. He had the heart of a winner and did much for his team.

Weldon Drennan was always ready to go into action when called upon. He was a real guard but was faced with too much All-Conference competition. When the time came for his chance in the game, he showed his determination to win.

AGGIES

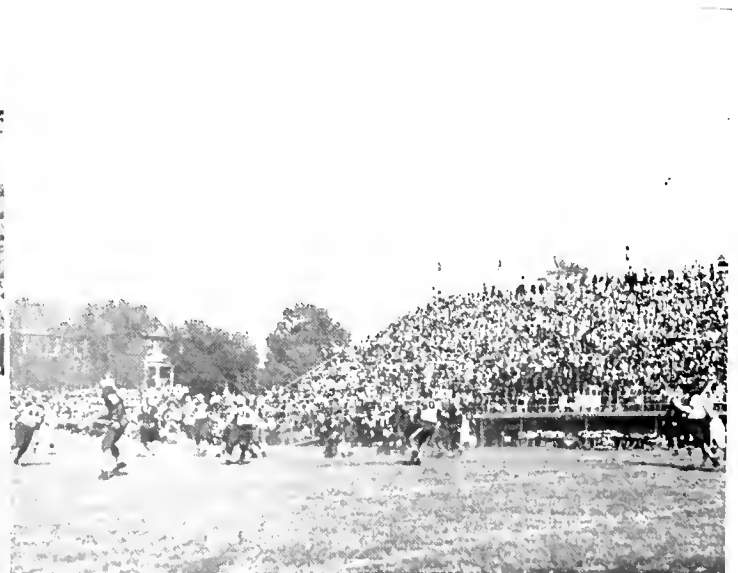

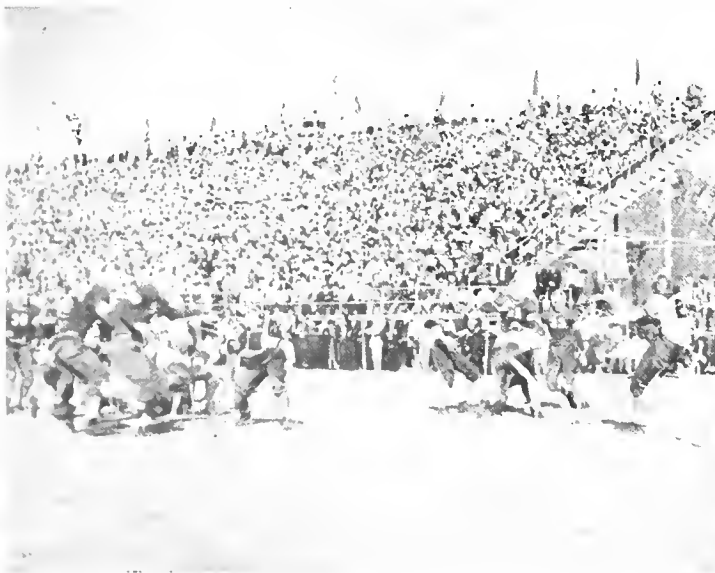

Todd Drives Into The Arkansas Secondary

AGGIES LOSE TO ARKANSAS

The Aggies invaded the hills of the Ozarks only to be beaten by Arkansas, who recovered their passing magic to ring up a 26-13 victory. The Aggies gave the Parkers plenty of trouble in the first half, but when the Razorbacks got their overhead attack working, the cadets were never in the running again. The Aggies were one point ahead at the half, but Arkansas floated two winning touchdowns in the third quarter and spent the final quarter freezing the ball around in the midfield or in the Aggie territory. Audish and Jones were the touchdown makers for the Aggies, Jones, in two trick plays, gained twenty-two yards, and went over. Audish was the outstanding back for the Aggies, toting the ball eighteen times with an average of four yards every time. He intercepted one pass, hit the Porkers' line with such power and dynamite that it was blasted to pieces. The famed Aggie line again dominated the contest. From the opening whistle to the closing gun, the line charged and blocked the Arkansas line to a fare thee well. The whole story of the Aggies' defeat lies in the fact that the small stature of the Aggie backs prevented them from breaking the passing attack of the long tall Razorbacks. Dick Vitek was one of the factors which kept the score down, time after time he leaped high into the air to gather down long Razorback passes. Joe Routt again played his usual all-American game by stopping everything that came his way. Joe Boyd and Bruno Schroeder also played a great defensive game for the Aggies.

Mills Gets Off A Long Punt

Smith Makes A Beautiful Catch

Joe Boyd in his first year on the Varsity team won a place as the regular tackle. He was one of the most vicious blockers on the team, and one of his specialties was smearing the opposition's interference.

Rankin Britt came through as expected and as the year progressed he developed into one of our best ends in the Conference. His specialty was leaping in the air and making all possible stabs.

Owens Rogers called signals for a large part of the season. "Slick" was a dangerous broken-field runner in addition to his signal calling. He was a deadly blocker, mowing down the opposition for his teammates.

Walemon Price is in his sophomore year, and has won considerable acclaim as a passer. When the team was behind, he was always sent in to heave the spheroid down the field into waiting hands, and quite often produced results.

Lester Steffens was a big bruising back and dealt the opposition much misery. His hard driving and vicious blocking meant many extra yards for the team during the year.

AGGIES CRUSH MUSTANGS 14 to 0

Led by Dangerous Dick Todd the Aggies crushed the Mustangs of S.M.U. 14-0 on Kyle Field before a crowd of 10,000 fans. Todd, who had been held to minor gains throughout the season, was the difference Saturday. He called Jack Morrison's booming punt on his own twenty-seven late in the second quarter and pranced seventy-two yards for a touchdown. This run was easily the most beautiful ever seen on Kyle Field. As Todd took the ball on the run, he slowed up sufficiently to allow his interference to form, and when this interference formed, Todd proceeded to run through the entire Mustang team for the tally. Roy Young saved Todd's run by turning and blocking out Beardon just as it seemed the Mustang fullback would overtake Todd. Todd's punting with and against the wind, held the Mustangs at bay repeatedly. The Aggies found themselves on their five-yard stripe in the first quarter, but Todd came through with a sixty-eight yard punt that put the Ponies well back in their own territory. The Aggies' second touchdown came in the last few minutes of play. Joe Turner scored when the Mustangs uncorked a hope pass. Joe intercepted the ball on his own twenty-five and galloped down the sidelines untouched for the score; Todd again kicked the extra point. Line play reached fever heat at times, but the battling cadets usually had the best of it with a line that starred from end to end. But it was Joe Rautt who was the star of the line, making tackles in all directions and seldom being blocked out of the play. In the backfield Vitek and Rogers did yeoman work to aid Todd. Unusually clean play marked the game. Three five-yard penalties being marked against the Aggies and the Mustangs.

Wha Has the Ball! ?

Rogers' Elusiveness Plainly Seen

Jo Jo White was one of the best pass receivers in the Conference. Although faced with strong competition Jo Jo managed to play a large part of each game, and with one year's experience behind him we are expecting great things of him next year.

Frank Wood is one of the most feared punters in the Conference. Although Frank did not see much action this season he will in all probability be in the starting line-up next year.

Eli Rushing was one of the three centers on the squad. He was the ready bruising type of player and the opposition all knew when Eli was in the game. With two years of eligibility ahead of him, he will in all probability make Conference timber.

Lehman Rahn had the unfortunate job of playing the same position as Virgil Jones. But even with this handicap "Nuts" saw considerable service which will benefit him greatly next season.

Alvin Olbrich won a place on the Aggie squad by his great intra-mural play. "Block" is expected to fill the shoes of Joe Routt next season and we all feel that he is capable of doing the job.

AGGIES FIGHT RICE OWLS TO 6-6 TIE

"There shall be no regrets"—with the sound of the final gun of the ball game each player and cadet used that famous saying and meant it with all of his heart. From the first to the last whistle the famed Aggie eleven outplayed the highly touted Rice Owls only to have the game tied in the last few minutes of play due to penalties caused by technicalities which paved the way for the Owl's touchdown. The Aggies' touchdown came in the second period and was due to some fine ball carrying by Dick Todd. A pass, Shockey to Shroeder, gave the Farmers a first down on the Rice forty-one yard line. After a fifteen yard penalty, Todd broke loose down the sideline to the Rice fourteen. Then Todd faded back and sailed a pass into the waiting arms of Britt in the end zone. Britt leaped high into the air to take the ball away from several Rice players. The Owls scored their touchdown in the last two minutes of play due to penalties which cost the Aggies sixty yards and an injury suffered by Joe Routt. Joe's effectiveness to the team became apparent when he left the ball game. Once Routt was out of the way, the Owls moved through the center of the line, a line that had halted running plays for three quarters and rushed Owl passes all over the field. The Aggie eleven played their hearts out and deserved to win. The forward wall was undaunted and played most of the game in the Rice backfield. Rodgers, Vitek, and Todd played both great defensive and offensive football. On one occasion, Vitek intercepted a Rice pass on his own goal line and ran it back to midfield.

AGGIES DEFEAT ANCIENT RIVALS

The crisp Thanksgiving day, with a bright sun sparkling on the garb of a record-smashing crowd of 32,000 football fans, brought no end to the best loved tradition of the Texas Aggies in that the orange jerseyed Texas Longhorns did not win on Kyle Field. A big, vicious, sparkling band of inspired Aggies swept forth on Turkey-day with a bruising victory over Dana X. Bible's Longhorns, 7-0. Texas, hot with steam, started off with a bang, but it did not take long for Routt, Jones, and the entire Aggie line to cool them off with crushing tackles, the fury of which had not been seen on Kyle Field. Only once did Dandy Dick Todd sift through the stout Texas line, but that trip swept the Aggies to victory in a 60-minute scramble of thrills. Never did the Aggies let a break get by them, and it was such a happening that led the Cadets to their score. Zed Coston intercepted a pass and lateraled to Britt. Shockey then sent a shovel pass to Todd who scrambled 27 yards down the sidelines. Rogers picked up nine yards on a plunge. Dick Vitek struck two mighty thrusts at the heart of the Texas line to score. Todd added the extra point. Stormy Joe Routt, playing his last game on Kyle Field, led the Cadets' "thin red line" in one of the great defensive shows of the season. Together with his guard running mate, Virgil Jones, Joe harassed Longhorn ball carriers for sixty minutes and throttled the only Texas scoring threat on the six-yard line. The stars in the Aggie line were numerous, but we shall not attempt to name them, for stardom belongs to each man who participated. To those seniors who played their last game on Kyle Field we wish to say, "your presence will be greatly missed next season."

AGGIES WALLOP SAN FRANCISCO DONS

Dangerous Dick Todd pranced the Texas Aggies to a 42-0 victory over the San Francisco Dons. Throughout the second half the Aggies were switching players, but with regulars or reserves, the offense continued to click, and four times Aggie backs and ends smashed through to pay dirt, and on another occasion Bill Boyd kicked a sixteen-yard field goal. Todd set up the first touchdown; from the Dons forty-five yard line Todd galloped to the twenty-three where he smashed over and aloose from half a dozen tacklers to place the ball on the one-yard line. Dick Vitek then hit the center of the line for the score. Later Todd raced back forty-two to return their punt for a touchdown. Big Joe Routt not only stopped everything through the center of the line, but during closing minutes of the game pounced on two fumbles and tried his luck in the backfield. Joe gained nine yards on the two tries. Virgil Jones, Bill Boyd, Ray Young, Bob Nesrsta, Dick Vitek, Jim Shockey, Red Church, and Bill Drennan also turned in magnificent performances in the final game of their college career. So strong was the Aggie defense that the San Francisco Dons were never inside the Aggie twenty-five yard line. In the second period the Dons recovered the Aggie fumble on the Aggie twenty-nine yard line, but the rest of the evening the Dons spent in their own territory. In the scoring parade Vitek and Nesrsta shared honors with Britt scoring one and Todd's spectacular punt return. The game was marked with thrills as the Aggies showed the west-coast fans the type of football that is played in the Southwest Conference. The statistics tell the Aggies' superiority over the Dons. The Aggies made seventeen firstdowns to the Dons three, and a total of three hundred and sixty-nine yards on runs and passes to the Dons forty-two yards.

Schraeder Gathers in a Pass

A Jumble of Players

JOE ROUTT began his football career at Ridenham, Mass., where he played football two years before coming to this school. One was a freshman and the other a sophomore. He was a starting position in '35 and '36, there was no football in '37 because of water. He played in '38 and '39, and in '40 he was named one of the great players of the winter. He played at the All-American games for two years.

CO. CAPTAINS JOE ROUTT AND RICHARD VITEN

RICHARD VITEN started his football career at Granger, Iowa, where he lettered three years, captained his team, and won all-district honors. Dick won his freshman number in '34 and alternated at the quarterback position in '35. In the seasons of '36 and '37 he won the starting position and the bulk of the quarterbacking while he developed into the shrewdest signal barker in the conference and a crack ball carrier.

'37 FISH SQUAD

AGGIE PROSPECTS FOR '38 BRIGHTENED BY FISH SQUAD

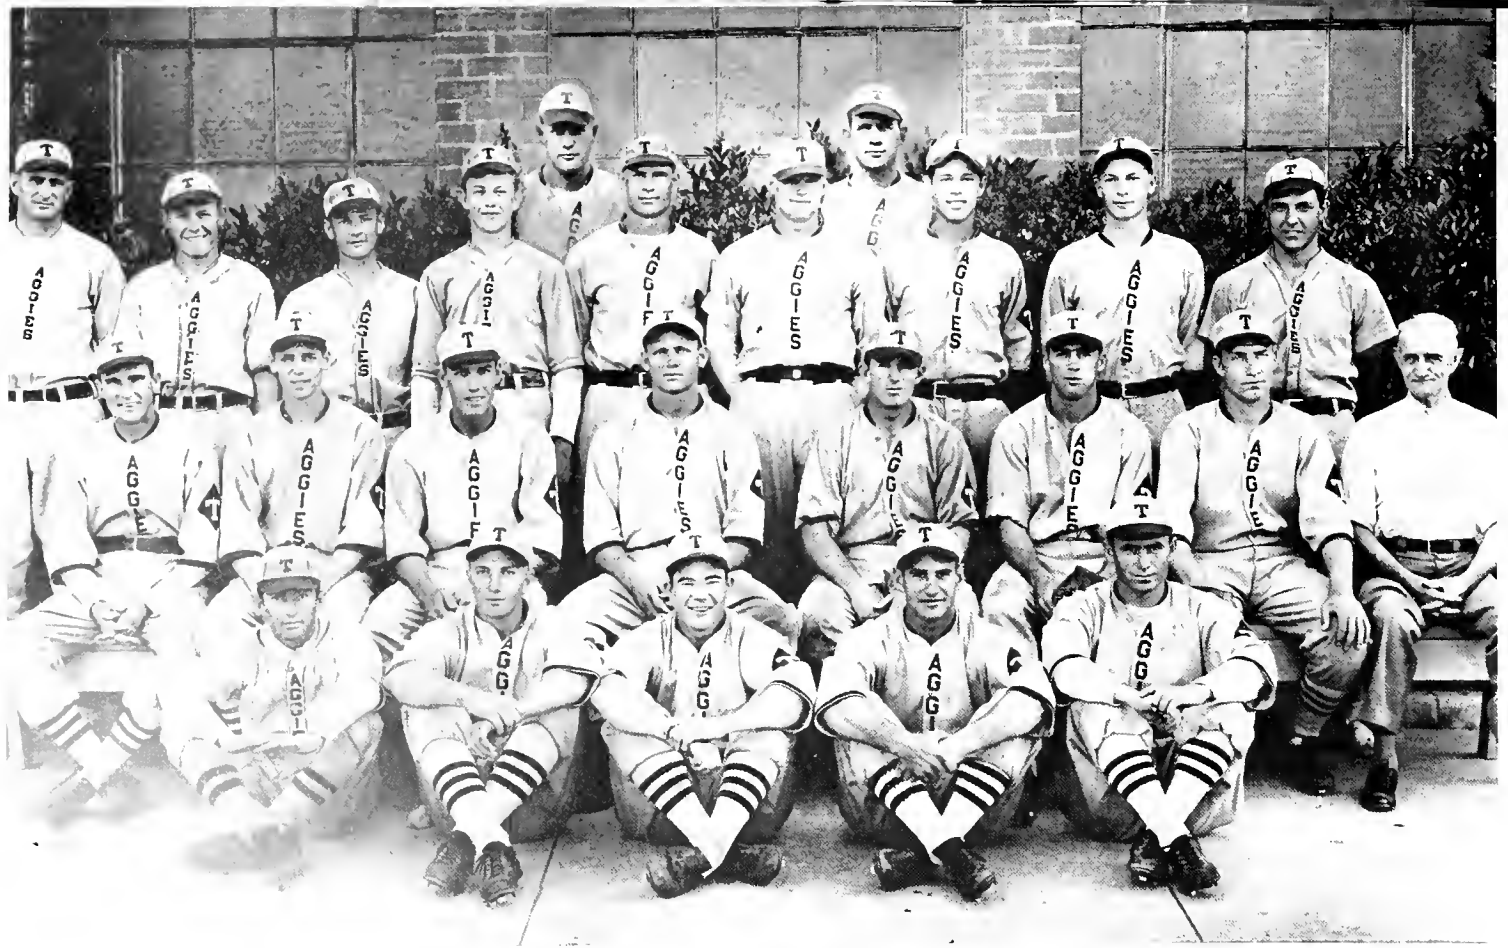

One of the largest squads in the history of A. & M. turned out for freshman football. They were not only the largest, but also the strongest ever assembled. The squad played three games throughout the year, and won all games by top-heavy margins. First came Allen Academy, which was defeated by a large score, with every man seeing action. The Rice Fish were the next to feel and see the Aggie power and deception in action, as the Aggie Fish rode rough-shod over them to win the score of 26-0. The Texas fish invaded Aggieland on Turkey Day to try to end the undefeated season of the Aggie Frosh, but they were accorded the same treatment as their big brothers and went down in defeat.

Not enough credit can be given to Coach Hub McQuillen and his able assistants: Charley DeWare, Les Cummings, and Bill Stages, who have worked unceasingly to turn out a well balanced and powerful team in every department of the grid game, and to instill the fundamentals of football and the true Aggie spirit into the boys. Each Fish Team has seen a few stars, but this was not the case this year, as there was a star or two trying for every position on the team. Many of the lettermen from the Varsity Squad will have to hustle to hold their positions for the forthcoming year.

Some of the outstanding men were Hall, Pugh, Smith, Jefferys, Herman, Thompson, Dawson, Darby, Hauser, Duncan, and Kimbrough.

BASEBALL . .

1937 SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE CHAMPS

The Aggies' baseball team was not the most polished nine in the Conference, but it was their fire and fight, and determination to win that brought them the championship. When the going was rough, and things looked dark, the Aggies always began to function and turn defeat into victory. It was fate, however, that picked the two teams whose rivalry is known throughout the land to meet in the closing games of the season, and battle for the Conference lead. The Aggies took the first game. Texas took the lead in the second game, and held it through the early stages; then like a bolt from the sky, the Aggies began to ring the fences with base-hits and tie the ball game. With the score tied in the last of the ninth, each man wanted to be the first hitter, but fate again picked Woody Bell. With the determination and confidence Coach Sikes had instilled into each man, Bell strolled to the plate, and knocked the first ball pitched out of the park to bring the championship back to Aggieland.

Siki Talks It Over With the Boys

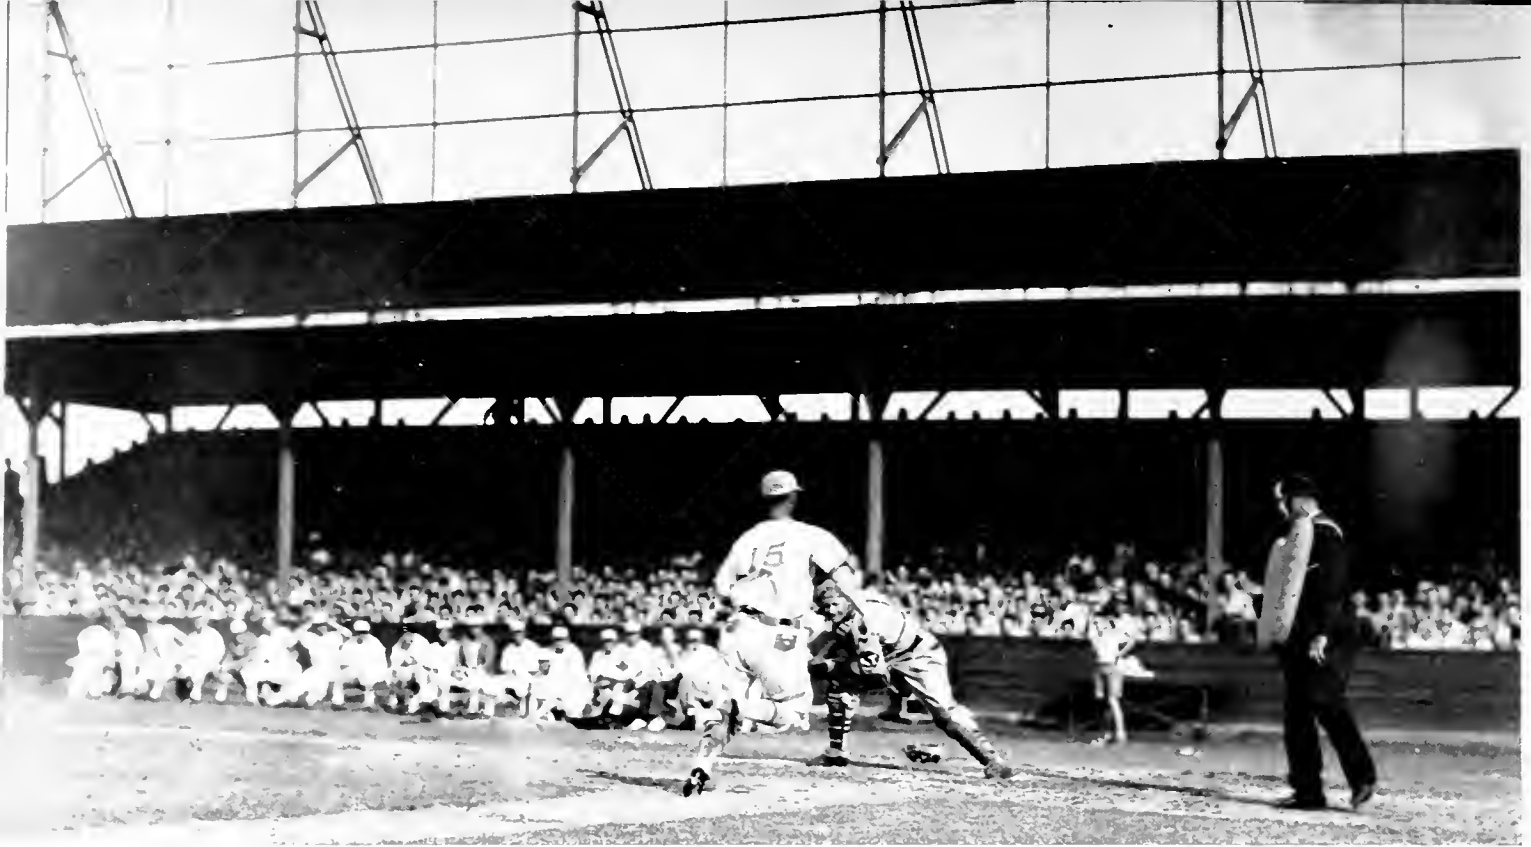

J. V. Sikes starred in athletics a few years back. He was one of the greatest three-letter athletes Texas A. & M. has ever had, and his record of nine letters on A. & M. teams is worthy of pride. His first coaching job for A. & M. was with the freshman football and varsity baseball. In his two years of coaching baseball his teams have finished second and first, respectively. Sikes has a perfect knowledge of handling men, and his baseball teams have become the most feared in the Conference.

"Pete" Dowling, captain of the 1937 championship baseball team, proved his versatility as a leader by the fine showing made by the team, and displayed his popularity by winning the cup presented by the ex-students of Austin for being the most popular athlete on the A. & M. campus. For the past two years, "Pete" has been chosen as the catcher on practically every All-Conference nine. Dowling's ability as a hitter made him the most dangerous man at the plate in the Conference.

AGGIES TAKE FROGS AND OWLS INTO CAMP IN THEIR SERIES

A crowd of 5,000 rabid fans, including the Texas Legislature, jammed Kyle Field to see the Aggies win over T.C.U. The game rocked along until the eighth, with the Aggies trailing by one run; then with the aid of six hits and two walks, the Cadets scored eight runs to ice the game. The teams then moved to Fort Worth where the Farmers won two games, the first game being a hit parade for the Aggies who gathered twenty-two hits and nineteen runs. Though held scoreless for the first four innings of the second game, the Aggies found their batting eyes in the fifth, and before the dust of battle had cleared, had scored fourteen runs on nineteen blows.

The Rice Owls were the next victims of the rampaging Aggies, and were soundly beaten in a three-game series by the score of 7-4, 7-2, and 9-6. With the vision of the Southwestern Conference banner flying over Kyle Field, the Cadets were not to be denied. The Aggie swatsmiths belted the ball all over the lot, and the pitchers pitched consistently good ball to hold the Owls in check, and give the Farmers a tie for the Conference lead.

"Chink" Gets a Good Blow

Jess Landrum was one of the best second sackers in the Conference. He was a tower on defense and was a dangerous man at the plate, specializing in long-range hits.

"Chink" Manning was the lead-off man, and he could be depended upon to get on the bag. "Chink" also was a renowned fly-hawk, making almost impossible catches. He also led the Conference in pilfering bases.

"Pete" Dowling was the captain, and best hitter on the team. He was by far the best catcher in the Conference, making all-Conference two years in succession.

Kyle Riddle was the most dependable portsider on the team. He was particularly effective in the clinches. Part of the team's success can be attributed to his dependable relief work.

"Blanco" Smith was the right fielder on the team, and his timely wallops were always produced at the crisis. "Blanco" covered lots of territory in the outer garden, and robbed many a would-be hitter.

Flanagan Throws o Hook in a Close One at Home

The Aggies opened their Southwestern Conference baseball season by losing to the Baylor Bears to the tune of 4-3. The game was hard fought all of the way, with an Aggie rally falling short in the ninth inning. Later in the season, the Bears invaded Aggieland, determined to win, but the Aggies, with a chance for the title, were on their toes and took both games. Though Pitner and Manning were the stars for the Aggies, they cannot be given all the glory, for it was the Aggie nine, playing their hearts out to win, that made these victories possible.

The week-end of April 8 saw the S.M.U. Mustangs come charging into Aggieland to try to stampede the Farmers, only to walk lamely away, soundly trounced in a two-game series. Pitner and Riddle kept the Mustangs' blows scattered, while Williams, Landrum, and Dowling knocked S.M.U.'s pitchers all over the lot to win by the scores of 10-5 and 9-6. The last game of the series was played in Dallas with the Aggies winning in the eleventh inning 2-1, when Dowling scored on Flanagan's single.

"Lefty" Knowles was the ace portsider on the staff. He made his impression as a relief hurler, although he was one of the starting pitchers.

Harold Welch was probably the most effective pitcher on the squad when he was right. He also did some excellent relief work.

Woody Bell was the regular right fielder, and a more dependable one could not be found. He will long be remembered for his timely wallop in the second Texas game.

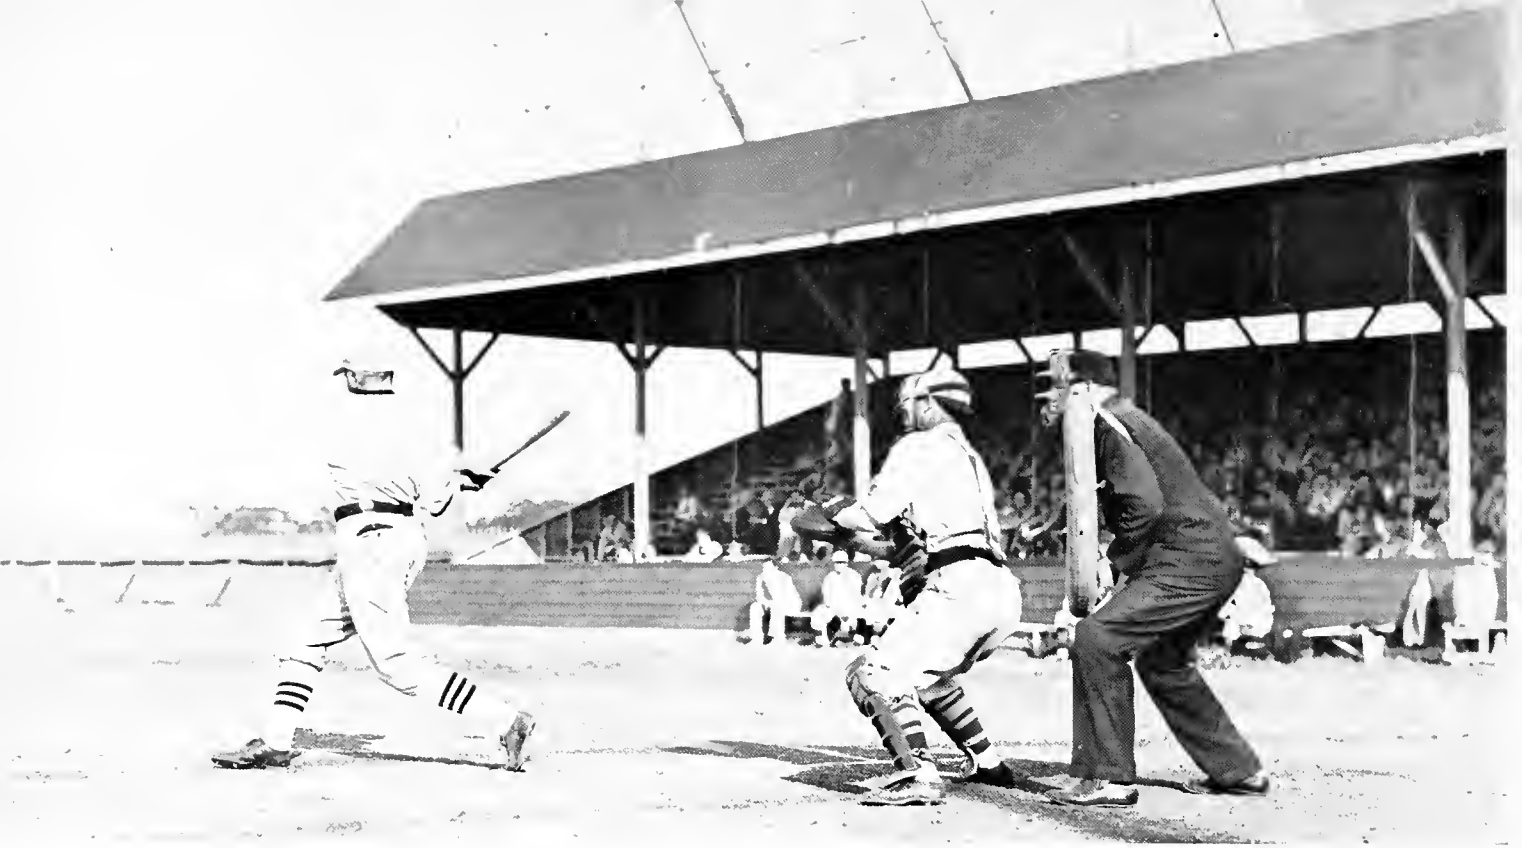

"Dutch" Voelkel was the utility infielder, and also did much of the pinch-hitting. "Dutch" was ever dependable and was always able to deliver a blow at the strategic moment.

Chris Flanagan was a shortstop of no mean ability. He was always dangerous at the platter, and his timely wallops broke up several games during the year.

Woody Smashes One Out

After losing an early season game to the Texas Longhorns by the score of 7-2, the Aggies, in typical Frank Merriwell style, won the last two games of the season from them to win the much coveted Southwest Conference Baseball Championship. No one man can claim the glory for these victories, but it was the whole team functioning as a perfect machine that made them possible. "Doc" Pitner pitched the first game for the Aggies, and set back the highly touted Steers with three runs and six hits. The Farmers scored one run in the first, three in the sixth, and Dowling's home run in the seventh put the game on ice, by making the score 5-3. The Aggies, after being held scoreless in the second game for seven innings, charged from behind in the eighth to score three runs and tie the ball game. Morrow, first up, singled. Landrum followed with a single. Pete Dowling then proceeded to step up to the plate and paste one over the center field wall. The game moved into the last of the ninth with the score knotted at 3-3; then Bell, first man up, poled the first ball pitched over the center field wall, to nail the championship banner on the flagstaff over Kyle Field.

Bill Stages alternated with Woody Bell in the right pasture. He was an able fly-hawk, and was always a potential threat as a pinch-hitter.

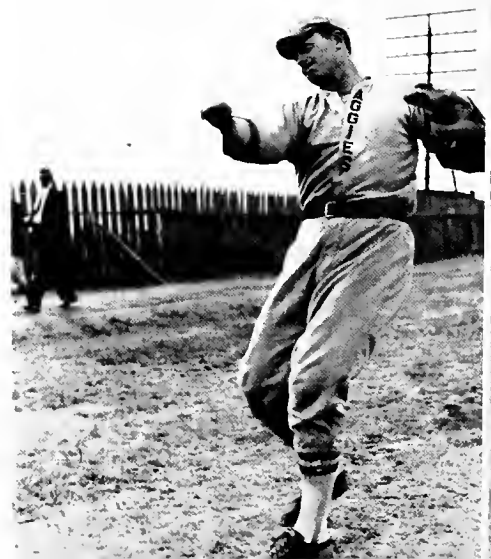

Johnny Morrow held down the keystone sack, and did it ably. His hitting in the pinches, and his spectacular fielding saved several ball games.

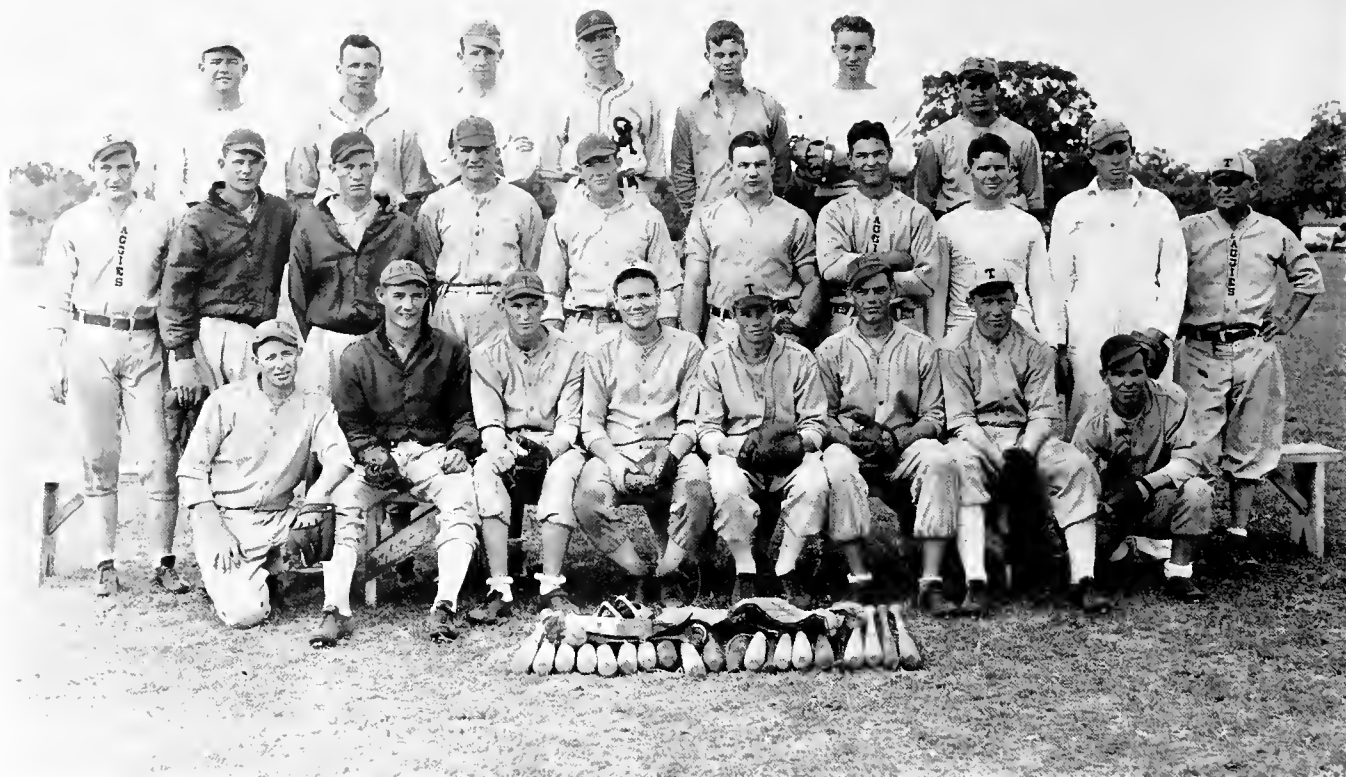

"Phoebe" Phythian had the difficult job of playing the same position as Pete Dowling. Whenever Pete was hurt, he did a real job behind the plate.

Rube Williams' held the initial bag down flawlessly. His fielding was beyond reproach, and little more could be asked in the way of a hitter.

"Doc" Pitner was the most reliable man on the mound staff. He was the leading Conference pitcher, and his work in the Texas series warrants applause.

'37 FISH SQUAD

FISH SQUAD PROMISE TO PRODUCE FUTURE STARS

Fish Coach "Lil" Dimmitt had one of the most promising squads in recent years report to him. To "Lil" befell the job of rebuilding the '37 Championship Crew, shattered by graduation, with the fish squad to act as a nucleus. By the impressive record the Fish set up, it seems that the Aggies will not suffer for lack of an able baseball nine for the next several years. Material was abundant for practically every position, with possible emphasis laid upon the mound staff, which had at least five or six performers, each capable of doing high calibre duty on the hillock. The squad also boasted of several fence punishers, who will give several of the returning letter-men a run on their respective positions. The Fish played several games with imported opposition, and held their own with the best of them. Included in the group of teams which they met were such strong nines as Allen Academy, the Texas Fish, and others. The most promising feature of the squad was that, like their older brothers, in practically every game, the sluggers got to work, and sent plenty of tallies across the platter. With several good recruits for pitching duties on the squad, in addition to those returning letter-men and squadmen left from the championship club, together with the stellar hitting displayed by the Fish, the Aggies should be able to put as aggressive an aggregation on the diamond this year, as the previous one.

The Texas Aggie Basketball Squad Of '38

COACH HUB McQUILLAN
CAPTAIN BUDDY HARRIS

A FIGHTING TEAM

The Aggie basketball team was one of those ever fighting teams. They were a team working together as a perfect machine. Many times during the season Cadets and spectators were brought to their feet by a team that would not admit defeat but would fight to the last whistle to bring a victory home to Aggieland.

COACH HUB McQUILLAN

When Coach McQuillan first came to Aggieland he had an inexperienced and green squad awaiting him. In the short time he has been here Coach McQuillan has taken this squad and taught it the fundamentals of the game and has welded it into one of the most feared teams in the Conference.

CAPTAIN BUDDY HARRIS

Captain Buddy Harris was one of the main reasons the Aggie team enjoyed the success it did during the past season. Besides being a great athlete he was a true sportsman endowed with the will to win. These combined qualities won for him the admiration of his opponents as well as that of his teammates.

RAZORBACKS WIN TWO FROM AGGIES

A. & M. opened their Conference basketball season by losing to the Arkansas Razorbacks 32-35. The Aggies were forced to make long shots until the second period when Frieberger's short shots put the Aggies in the running. With twelve minutes left to play the Aggies were trailing 17-31. Then Frieberger, Harris, and Clark generated a driving trio and made thirteen points in seven minutes while the Razorbacks made three. But the Razorbacks were not to be denied, and put on a scoring sprint that gave them the game. Frieberger was star of the game for the Aggies, scoring fourteen points and playing a great defensive game.

The Aggies lost their second Conference game when they were beaten by the Hogs 22-33. Tight defensive playing held down the scoring but not the excitement as the score was tied twice, and the lead switched six times during the game. At the end of the half the Cadets were leading 12-10. Despite the fact that the Aggies were consistently handicapped by wild shooting. Time and time again they worked under the goal only to miff scoring tries with erring shots. Sammie Dwyer led the Cadets' attack and won the respect of the Razorbacks.

FARMERS CAPTURE FROGS

The Aggies set their own pace and downed the Frogs of Texas Christian University 43-27. Sammie Dwyer, A. & M. guard, again sparked the Cadets' attack with eleven points, but the Farmers quickly tied it up and passed ahead. They built up a lead of 16-4 in the first fifteen minutes of play and then coasted with subs the rest of the half. The score at the half was 17-11, but the Aggies came back strong in the second half to ice the game.

In the second game the Aggies won over the lanky Frogs 33-30. In this contest against the Frogs Jimmy Clark and Buddy Harris teamed together to score 28 points. Clark scored fifteen points to glean high scoring honors of the contest. The Cadets jumped into an early lead and were pulling away fast when a stream of new Frogs kept pouring into the contest to try to halt the rampaging Aggies but to no avail as the final gun found the Cadets still out in front.

AGGIES LOST TWO TO S. M. U.

Twice during the season the Aggies encountered the Pony aggregation from Dallas and twice they fell beneath the charging hoofs of the Conference defending champions, the Mustangs. The Farmers were never able to get going in the first period of the game and went to the count of 41-20. The Aggies were not without their stars, for Clark and Harris tied for scoring honors while Dwyer and Roberts played a great defensive game to keep the score down. The Cadets' defeat was due to the fact that the Mustangs, led by their forwards, scored two field goals while the Aggies were scoring one.

The Aggies lost the second game again by the score of 20-41. The game was more evenly matched than the score indicates. During the first half the score rocked back and forth with the Farmers out in front at the half. But with the start of the second half the Aggies were no match for the Mustangs who pulled out to a lead that was never threatened. Captain Buddy Harris scored eight points to lead the Cadet scoring, and was the best floor performer from his forward position.

AGGIES TAKE TWO FROM OWLS

In the first of the two-game series, the Aggies came on where the Rice cagers sputtered in the second half to gain a 45-39 victory. After a point for point battle the first fifteen minutes the Owls pulled ahead with the lead, but the Aggies came back strong to build a substantial lead midway of the second period and were able to ston off Rice's last surge. Where Rice fired ineffectual passes and missed shots in the early stages of the second half, the Cadets, led by Jimmy Clark, in the first half and Buddy Harris and Frieberger in the second half, played steadily throughout, Clark making a variety of shots under trying conditions to lead the scoring with 16 points. Besides making 11 points Louis Frieberger was the main reason for many of Rice's ineffectual charges. He guarded the territory under the Owls' basket, with skill and towering height, which gave the Rice scoring offense worlds of trouble.

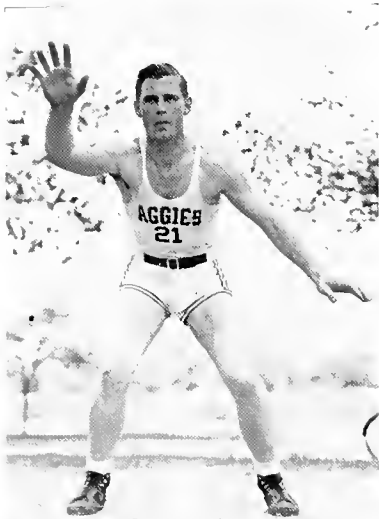

The second game saw plenty of scoring with the Aggies building up a large lead to withstand the Rice Owls last minute charge and win the game 52-45. Paced by Harris and Clark, the Cadets' goal roping forwards, A. & M. worked out a 28-18 advantage in the opening periods and kept the lead through the entire game. Clark was again the leading scorer with eight baskets and three free baskets for a total of 19 points. Captain Buddy Harris was not far behind with five from the floor and four from the free line for a total of 14 points. Sammie Dwyer played the outstanding defensive game by guarding the Owls' scoring ace so effectively that during the first period he did not score a point and only scored four during the entire evening.

AGGIES AND BEARS SPLIT

The Aggies journeyed to the city of Waco to tangle with the Baylor Bears only to go down in defeat 28-20. The game was of the nip and tuck type with the lead being changed many times in the contest. The game started slow and it was fully five minutes before either team looped a goal. Baylor scored first but it was not long before the Aggies had overtaken the Bears and had pulled out in front. From this point the lead rocked back and forth until the third period when the Bears pulled away with a lead that the Cadets could not overtake. Frieberger and "Banjo" Roberts starred on the defense for the Aggies and did mighty fine work to keep the Baylor score down.

The second game of the series was played at College Station and turned out to be not only the best but also the most exciting game of the season. It was a split second and overtime game that spelled a 46-48 defeat for hitherto undefeated Baylor Bears—a split second that played havoc with their title chances. The Aggies pulled away with an eleven to three point lead in the first five minutes of play but the Bears continued to climb 'til at the end of the half they were trailing 18-17. Thereafter the lead changed hands ten times and the score was tied ten times. Just before the final gun, Gernand, of Baylor, sunk a basket from the middle of the floor to knot the count at 36 all. Then came the overtime period when the Aggies, being led by Sammie Dwyer, overcame all obstacles to down the Bears 46-48. The overtime period belonged to Dwyer for time and time again he slipped through the Baylor defense to shoot what seemed impossible baskets.

AGGIES AND STEERS DIVIDE TWO

In the first of a two-game series the Aggies suffered defeat at the hands of their traditional rivals, the Texas Longhorns. The game was slow and long with the Steers finally coming out on the long end of the count 35-27. Jimmy Clark took individual scoring honors with eleven points, but Buddy Harris was held to a single tally during the evening due to excellent work of Spears, a Longhorn forward. The game—though not very exciting—saw some of the best basketball of the season being played. The floor work and defensive work of both teams was outstanding. The Cadets were always in the running until the last of the contest when all of their hope failed as Louis Frieberger fouled out of the game. Up to this point Frieberger had been a bulwark on the defensive and had been the main reason for the Farmers still being in the game.

Later in the season the Longhorns invaded Aggieland to try again to defeat the Aggies. After playing on almost equal terms most of the way the Cadets turned on the steam on both offense and defense during the last ten minutes and defeated the Steers 26-31. After the half the Steers took an abbreviated 18-14 lead, but the Cadets came back strong to tie up. They then took a lead that wavered from four to six points during the final few minutes. The game rocked along being tied or almost tied during the entire contest, and the winner could not be predicted till the end. The Longhorns made eleven field goals to the Aggies' nine, but the superb free throwing of Jimmy Clark more than made up the difference. Clark was held to five goals by five different men on the Steer team—each man taking a turn.

Texas Aggie Fish Basketball Squad Of '38

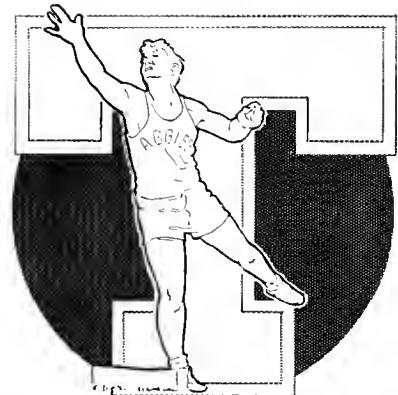

FISH BASKETBALL SQUAD SHOWS GREAT PROSPECTS

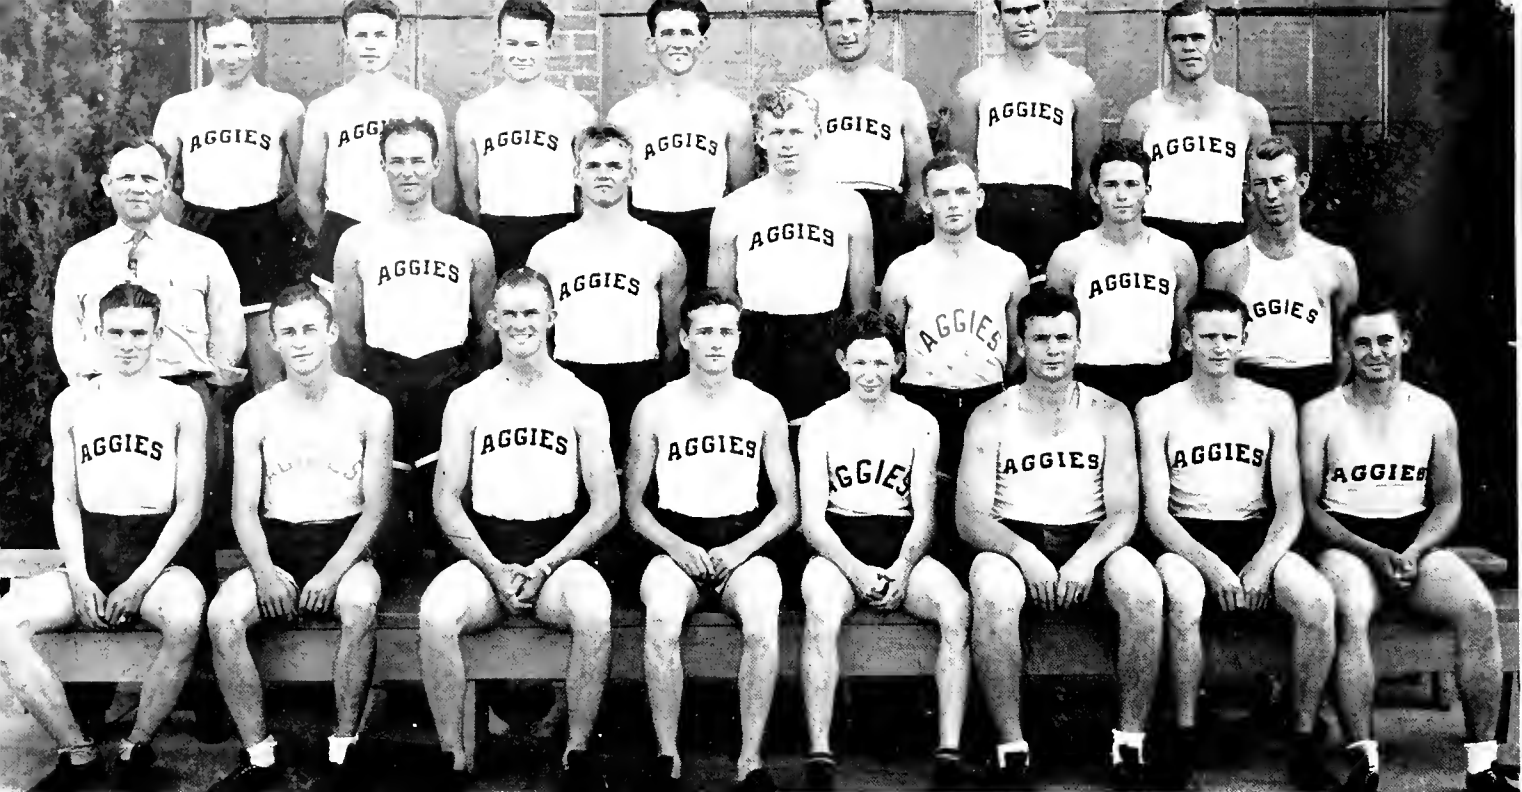

The Texas Aggie Cage team concluded what might be termed a successful season, not so much in victories, but many contenders on the fish five will make good Varsity timber. The Varsity will need plenty of these men, as a large number of the first team played their last game for the Maroon and White with the conclusion of the season. The fish squad boasted several rangy boys, who with a little coaching should present A. & M. with a basketball team worthy of praise. The fish played several games with imported opposition and fared rather well in their several encounters.

Coach Lil Dimmitt worked long and hard to instill the fundamentals of the game into the boys. His work showed results by the steady improvement of the squad as the season rolled along.

Outstanding men on the squad would be hard to enumerate, as fundamentals were the chief object, but Scarborough, Johnston, Herman, Dawson, Lang, and Pugh showed promise of affording the Varsity squadmen plenty of competition next year.

TEAM CONCLUDES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Aggies did not win the Conference meet, but the season was far from being a failure. The Cadets participated in ten meets, and placed first in five of them. Although several stars were lost by graduation, there were many promising young men on the squad, who with a year's experience behind them should add greatly to next year's team.

COACH ROLLINS FINISHES SECOND YEAR

Coach Dough Rollins has completed his second year as coach of the track team. Although his teams have not won the Conference, they are improving each year. Dough is one of the best liked men on the campus. His dynamic personality, ready smile, and cheery hello to everyone makes him known to each Aggie.

PARKS AND WILSON CONCLUDE ELIGIBILITY AT AGGIELAND

"Red" Parks and Hub Wilson were captains that were a credit to any team. Each has the heart of a fighter, and the desire to win. These two outstanding qualities made them give their best for the team. Both Red and Hub will be missed next year, because they could always be counted upon to win their event.

Herzik Leads in the High Hurdles

AGGIES OPEN SEASON WITH VICTORIES

A. & M. opened its track season by competing in the Border Olympics at Laredo. The showing the team made in this meet can be blamed to the fact that most of the trackmen were occupied with spring football training, and had not been able to work out. The following men entered the meet: Young—high jump; Herzik—120 yard hurdles; Wilson, Storms, Dittman, and Helbing—mile relay.

AGGIES DEFEAT SAN MARCOS

For their next track meet, the Aggies journeyed to San Marcos to meet the San Marcos State Teachers College. In this meet, the Aggies discovered several new stars, and won the meet by the score of 76-32. The point man of the meet was Melvin Herzik.

AGGIES WALK OFF WITH EXPO MEET

A. & M. had very little trouble walking away with the track meet held at Fort Worth. The Aggies ran up the amazing score of 88 points to their nearest opponent's 33. When the mile relay team breezed home to an easy victory, the smile of Coach Dough Rollins' face turned to a huge grin, because this was the third consecutive year the Aggies have won the event, and it gives them permanent possession of the trophy. With the first event tucked away, there was never any doubt as to how the meet would end, because this was the one day the Cadets were ready. Though the Aggies won numerous first places, it was the work of the whole team, which turned in many second and third places, which allowed the team to run up the massive total of 88 points.

AGGIES LOSE TWO THRILLERS

In a dual meet held at Houston, Coach Rollins' team failed to show the strength expected of them, and were forced to bow to the Rice Owls by the score of 81-40. The low hurdles proved to be the most evenly matched contest of the day, with Herzik nosing out Patterson of Rice by inches. Besides Herzik's sparkling win in the low hurdles, the Aggies found revenge in winning the two-mile run with Red Parks leading the pack home in ten minutes, two seconds. Cloudt took the javelin toss with a throw of 162 ft. 5 in. Roy Young tied with Hancock of Rice for first in the shot put with a heave of 43 ft. 4 in. Other Aggies who placed in the meet were: Byrd, second in the mile run; Young, second in the high jump; Wilson, second in the 880-yard run; and Schroeder, second in the discus.

AGGIES LOSE DUAL MEET

In a dual meet staged on the Kyle Field cinder path, the Aggies lost a heart-breaking meet to the Longhorns by the score of 66-56. The result of the meet was decided by the final event of the program, the mile relay. The Cadets led by their star hurdler, Herzik, kept pecking away at the early lead amassed by Texas only to lose the mile relay by a hair-raising finish. Helbing started the scoring by breezing to an easy victory in the 440-yard dash. Herzik followed with a victory in the high hurdles. Red Parks, flashy two-miler, led the pack in this event; then Herzik won the low hurdles. Roy Young then proceeded to beat Hall of Texas by inches to win the shot-put event. Sikes took the pole-vault. Then came the eventful mile relay, which Texas won, clinching the meet.

AGGIES BREEZE HOME WITH TWO MEETS

The potential power of the Aggies' track team came into its own, and they breezed home to an easy victory over Abilene Christian College. Vitek started the Cadets on their way to victory by winning the first event of the day. From this point, the Aggies were never headed, but kept increasing their advantage to build up the impressive score of 74 points. A. & M. won ten out of a possible sixteen first places; but it was the track events in which the Aggies clearly showed their superiority, by winning eight first places, while taking only two in the field events. Melvin Herzik was the individual star for the day, winning both the high and low hurdles, and being a member of the 440-yard relay team, which won first honors. The closest event of the day was the broad jump with Mills winning with a jump which measured a quarter of an inch better than that of Dick Todd.

FARMERS DOWN BEARS, FROGS AND PONIES

The Aggies journeyed to Waco, and won a quadrangular meet from Baylor, T.C.U., and S.M.U. The meet was held under the "kliegs" of Carroll Field, the first night meet ever staged in the Southwest Conference. A. & M. won eight first places, and amassed the impressive total of 86 points to literally walk off with the meet. Herzik was the high scorer of the evening, by winning both the high and low hurdles, and being a member of the victorious mile relay team. The Aggies took the lead in the meet when Helbing won the first event of the evening—the 440-yard dash. The other men who won first places were: Vitek, Parks, Herzik, Witkowski, and Young.

CINDER-ARTISTS MADE VALIANT STAND IN CONCLUDING MEETS

The Aggies surprised even their staunchest supporters by nosing out Rice to place second in a triangular meet with Rice and Texas, held at Kyle Field. The final score of the meet was Texas 58, A. & M. 42, and Rice 22. Helbing started the Aggies on their way by winning the 440-yard dash. Vitek then beat the Texas dash-man by inches to win the 100-yard dash. The 120-yard hurdles found Herzik competing against his bitter track rival, Patterson of Rice, but this time, Herzik wiped out the defeat given him by Patterson in a previous meet, by winning the high hurdles, and went on to win the low hurdles, scoring ten points, and becoming high-point man for the meet. The most thrilling track event seen in these parts for a number of years was witnessed with the running of the mile relay. Dittman, Storms, Wilson, and Helbing stayed neck and neck with the Texas and Rice men, with Helbing breaking the tape only inches ahead of the Texas man.

A. & M. PLACES THIRD IN THE CONFERENCE MEET

The University of Texas successfully defended their Southwest Conference title for the fifth consecutive year, by outpointing both Rice and A. & M. The Aggies' chances for a higher place in the meet suffered a severe blow when Herzik was unable to participate because of injuries which he received when he fell in the qualifying meet. It seems as if lady-luck frowned on the Aggies for the day. The Aggies, fighting with the determination which is characteristic of all A. & M. teams lost many an event by a few inches or seconds. Although the Farmers failed to place first in any event, they placed either second or third in everything.

FISH TRACKSTERS SHOW PROMISE

The Aggies' Fish track team was the most promising of any Fish team in the history of the college. The team was well balanced, with star performers for each position. Coach Rollins groomed the youngsters from the start, and under his careful tutelage a most promising aggregation took the field throughout the season. No end of valuable material will be sent up to the varsity from the team, filling in some noticeably weak spots. "Red" Cecil is the most promising of all Aggie track men, and will give the Cadets a much needed man for the dashes. Mickey Hogan will be ready to step into the shoes left by Parks. Driess will carry on where Herzik left off. There were many other stars, too numerous to enumerate. The team competed in three track meets and won all by large scores, winning over John Tarleton by the score of 70-44. In this meet Cecil scored fifteen of the team's total points. The squad also won the Fish meet of the Southwest Fat Stock Show, and won over Allen Academy. All credit is due to Coach Rollins for his round development of the boys and for their loyal work.

MINOR SPORTS . .

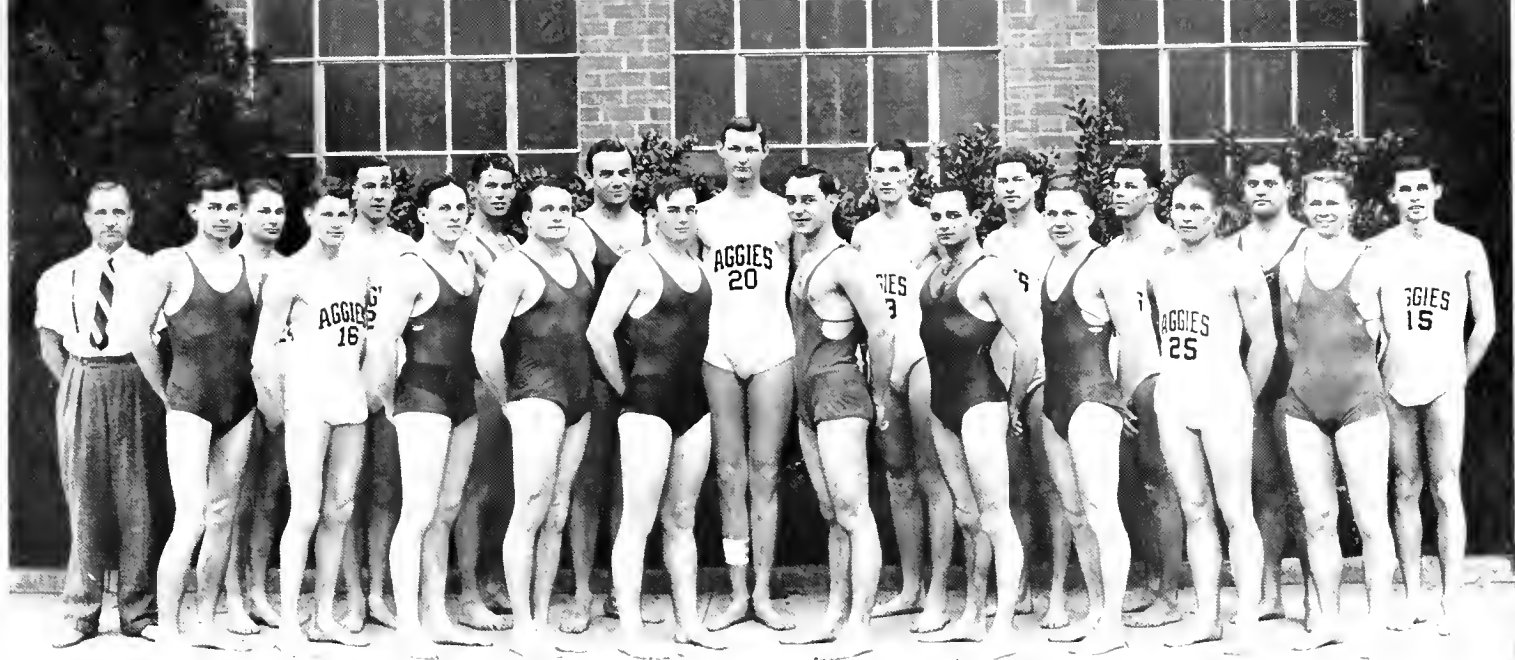

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM '37

Although the Cross Country team failed to win the Conference meet they deserve all the praise we can give them. Cross Country is not a spectacular pastime, but rather one of the most grinding of all sports. Training must be constant and strict, practice must be regular and hard, there is no cheering section to aid the flying legs but only that old Aggie will to win keeps these boys driving on to bring fame and glory to Aggieland. Captain Smith, Hogan, Peters, Strother, and Cloudt carried the colors of the maroon and white this year and more worthy men have yet to be found. The Conference meet was held on the highways and byways of College Station this year and resulted in a victory for the Rice Owls. Strother with the lead in the race assured, stumbled just before the finish line and this unfortunate accident allowed Bell of Rice to finish first. Not enough praise can be given to Coach Anderson who worked unceasingly to bring out the best in these boys.

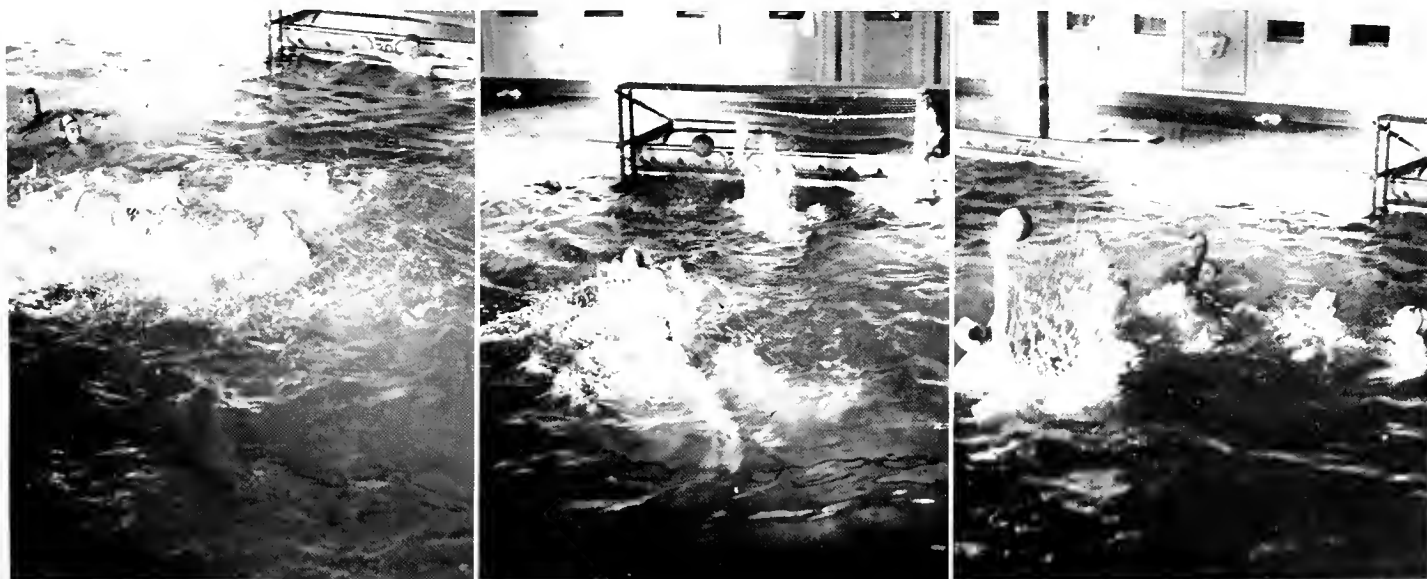

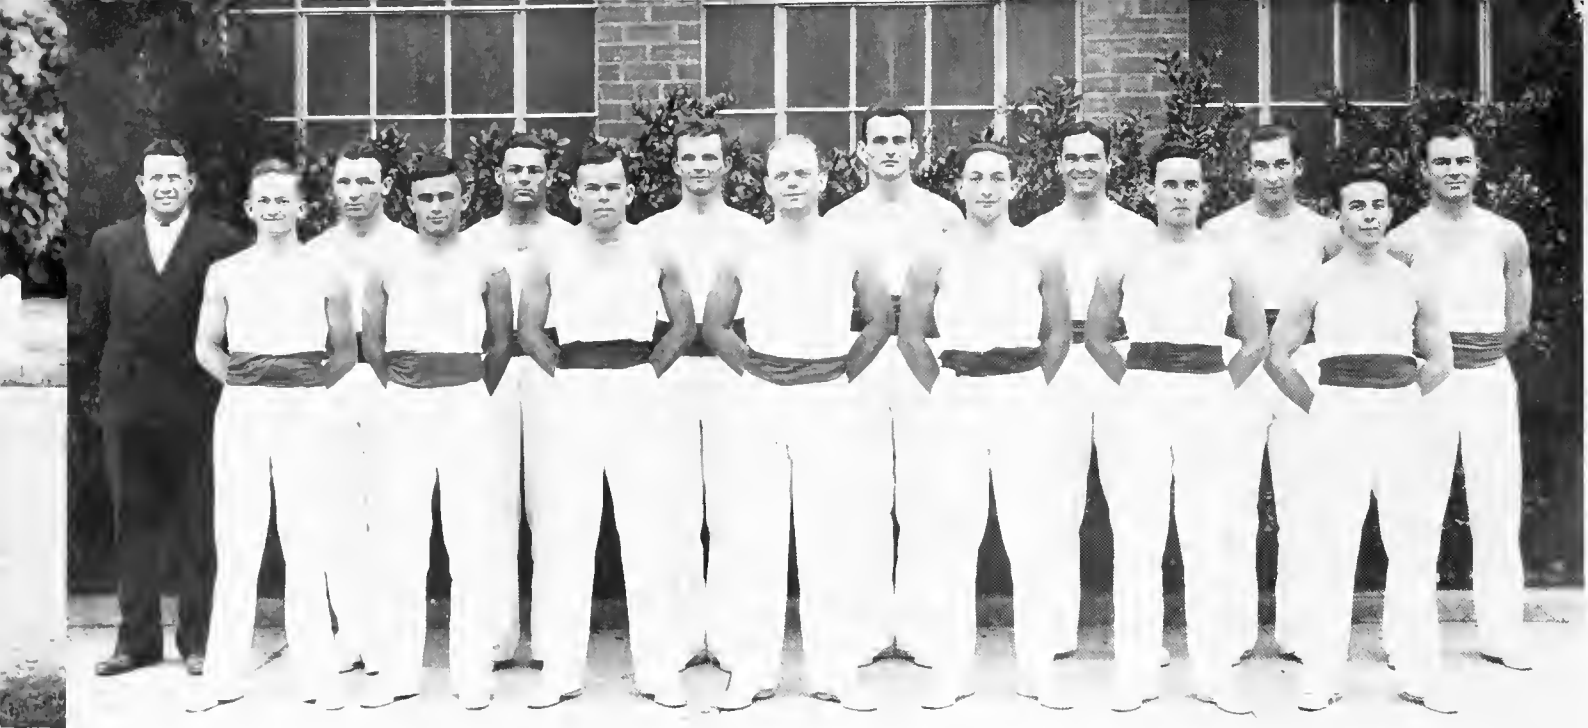

SWIMMING TEAM '38

Winning second place in the 1938 Jr. National A.A.U. water polo meet, the water polo team upheld the outstanding record made by the team since A. D. Adamson has been coach. The team entered the Jr. National meet undefeated, and has won 27 of the 28 games played since the team was organized four years ago.

The members of the swimming and water polo team are: Crow, Captain; Smith, Capote, Spaugh, Couch, Hall, Zelman, Yust, Armstrong, Davis, Crawford, Allen, Webb, Howard, Nordhaus, Sealy, Sturdivant, Scales, Aldridge, Simpson, Wallace, Boyle and A. D. Adamson, Coach.

No outstanding records have been made during the early season swimming meets, but the team is expected to make some outstanding records in the Southwest Conference meet late this year.

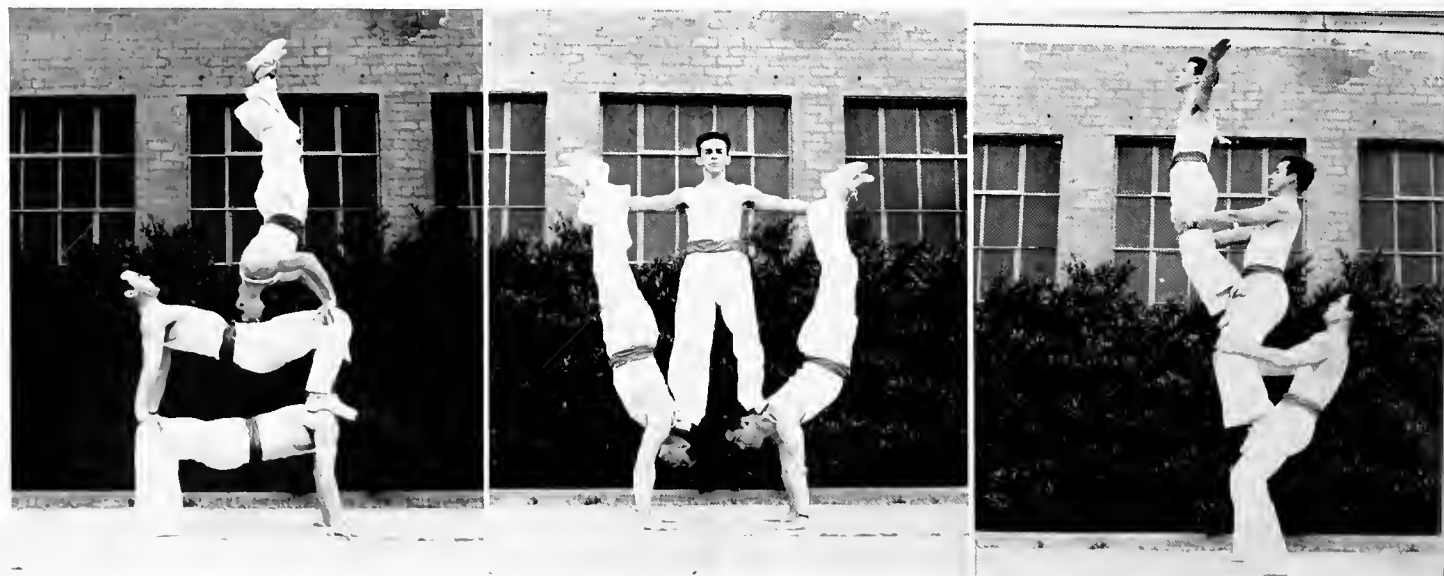

TUMBLING TEAM '38

A team that has won the heart of every one who has watched them perform is the Texas Aggie tumbling team. In their performances between halves of Aggie basketball games they have never failed to give a polished performance and their only reward is the pleasure derived from tumbling and the applause that greets their efforts.

After receiving the tumultuous ovation after their performance in the Gregory gymnasium at Austin this year, the team has been invited again. Many requests have been received by the team to perform over the state, but since tumbling is not a recognized conference sport, the team has not made any outside performances other than that made over at Texas this year.

At present there are 22 men on the team and they are governed by officers elected at the beginning of the year. The officers are: H. B. "Rabbit" McGrady, of Abilene, President; Bill Davis, of San Antonio, Secretary; Jimmie Cokinos, of Beaumont, is Historian.

TENNIS TEAM '38

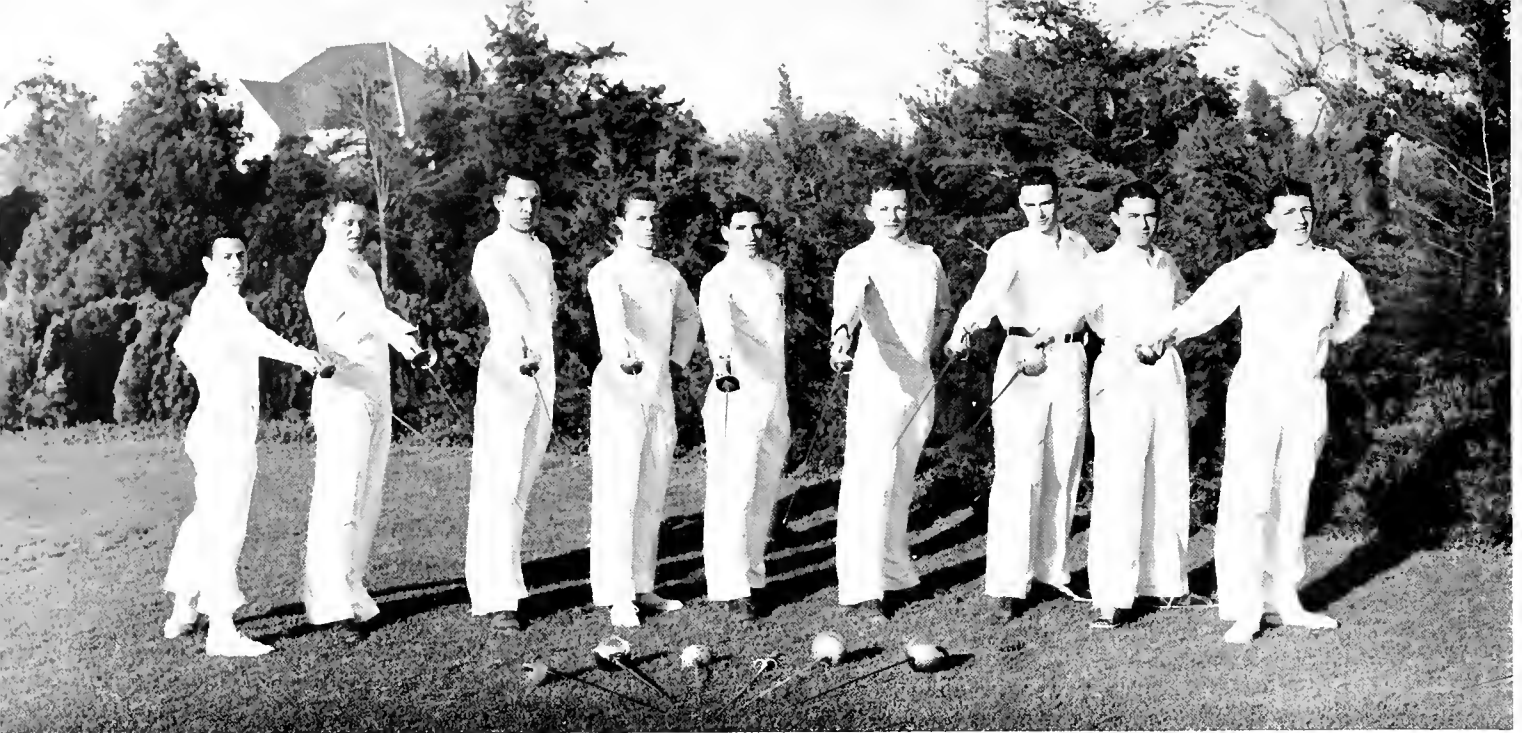

With the loss of three lettermen and Coach J. P. Abbott, the Cadet netters started the season under an almost insurmountable handicap. To top it off, two of the best Aggie prospects were found to be ineligible.

But after the training season got well under way under the new tennis coach, Dr. W. F. Weekes, prospects for a successful season became much brighter.

Captain Lloyd M. Walls played a much improved game over his last season's performance and other members of the team came up well. Sam W. Levine, G. P. Mitchell, and Beswick Wray made up the first four but were closely challenged for places by Charles F. Dougherty and J. T. Mills.

The Maroon and White tennis representation had a full schedule for the year with plenty of tough competition. Besides the five Southwestern Conference schools, the Cadets played against Texas Tech, Sam Houston Teachers, and Trinity University.

FENCING TEAM '38

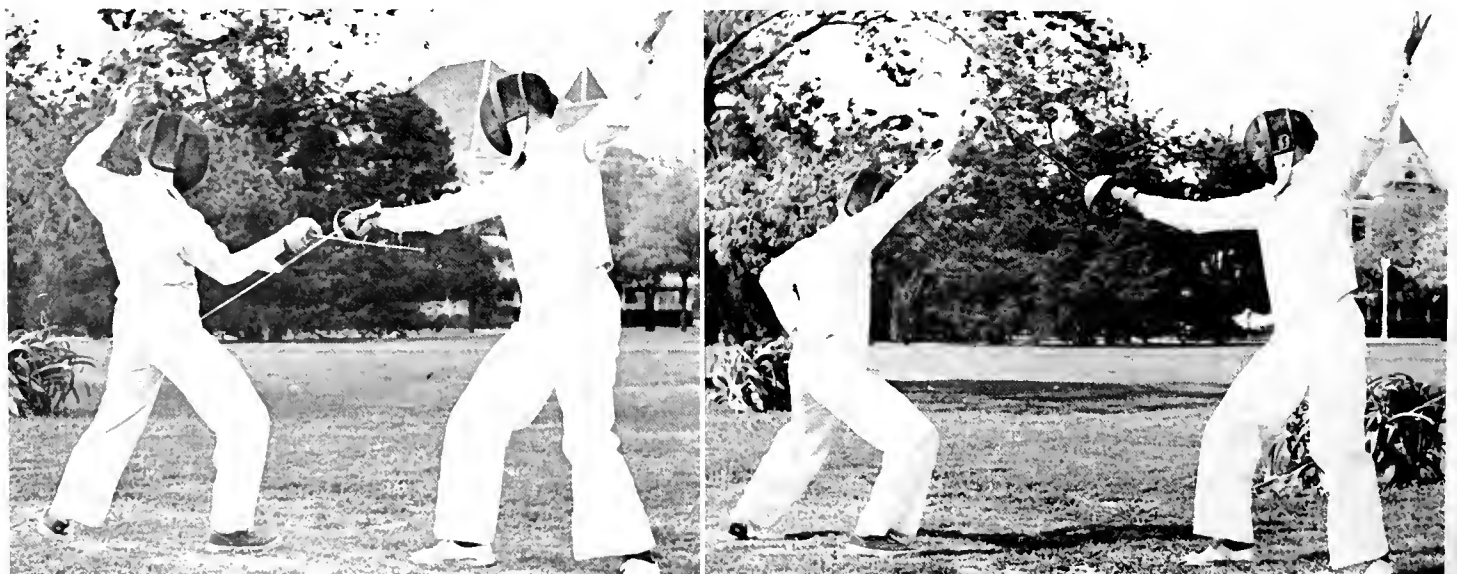

Fencing took great strides toward recognition this year. Not only has fencing become a well-known sport throughout the Southwest, but also at A. & M.

The first trip brought home laurels to Aggieland when Captain Alvin Goodstein won the Southwestern Open Sabre championship for the second consecutive year, and took second place in Dueling Sword. The meet was held at the Pan-American Exposition and some 200 fencers were present.

On November 27, the Aggie team, consisting of Goodstein, Benson, and Levine, invaded Galveston to bring home another victory. Levine won two out of three matches, Benson took one out of three, and Goodstein defeated Clem D'Albergo, Captain of the Galveston team. This left the score tied with four matches each. Goodstein settled the win by defeating both the Epee and Sabre teams.

The Galveston team, looking for revenge, come to Aggieland on December 3, and defeated the Aggie team, consisting of Krueger, Levine, Benson, Akarman, Rominger, Baird, Everett, and Goodstein, 10 to 14.

Among the achievements of the team can be listed its gain of Captain Roberts of the Military Department as its sponsor. Under his able guidance, the team should go far in the future. Also the team's bid for the Southwestern League matches was accepted by the committee. March 26 and 27 brought seventeen teams to battle on Aggieland soil, the greatest number of fencers ever to assemble here.

POLO TEAM '38

Polo at A. & M. has greatly increased in popularity in recent years and now has many enthusiastic followers.

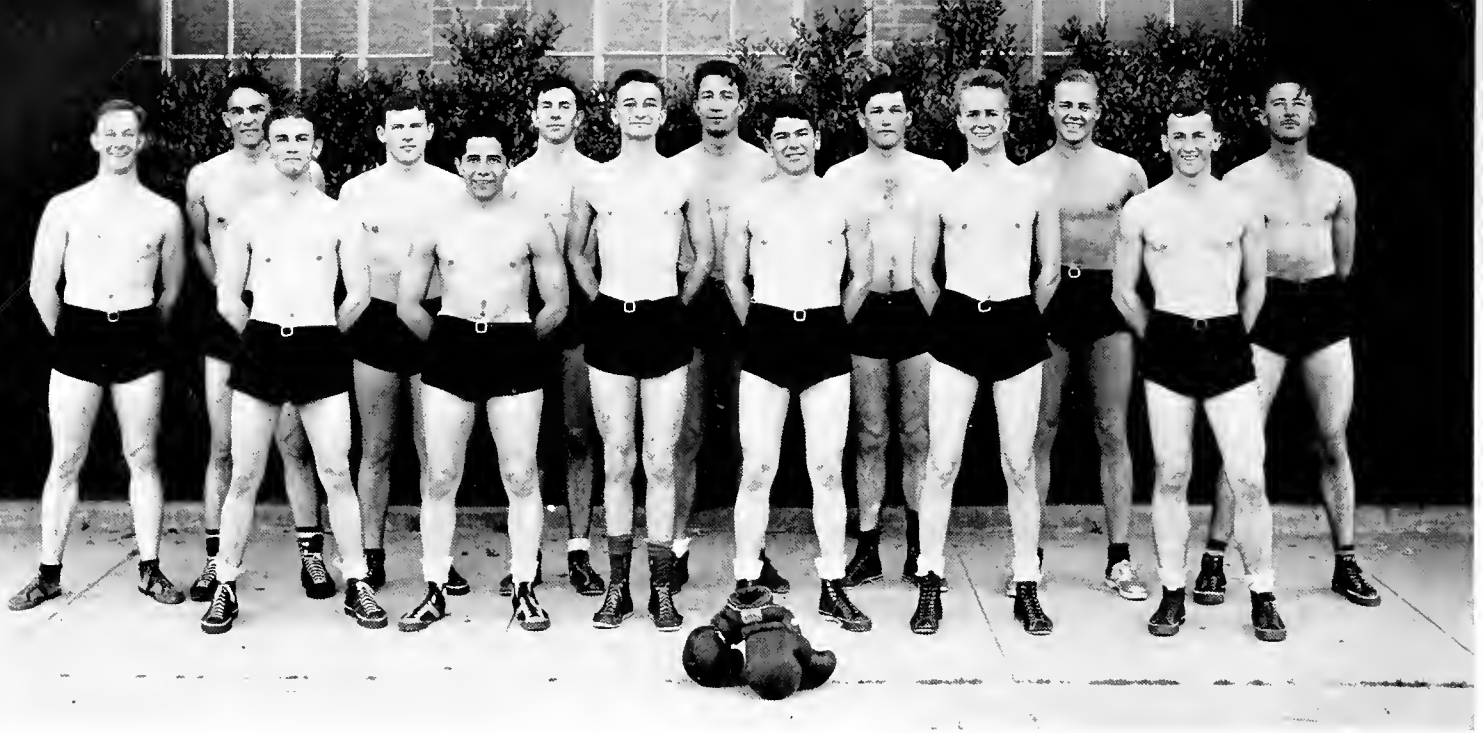

It is the desire of the team and its backers to see polo recognized at A. & M. and established in the Southwest Conference.

The Polo Team, coached by Captain T. D. Roberts, held matched games with the University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma Military Academy, Buda, and Huisache of Houston. The team made a trip to Houston and, for the first time in many years, was allowed to ship its ponies for games away from home.

Playing their first season, Hicks and Bennett, alternating at no. 1, played good offensive polo. They were strongly backed by John Bryan, Cavalry senior and Team Captain, who led the team through a very successful season by his consistently brilliant play at no. 2. Asa Jones made possible a strong combination between the no. 2 and the no. 3 positions, while Forest Jordan proved invaluable with his strong, steady game at no. 4. Other players who furnished much competition for the first team were: Harry Bryant, who alternated at no. 4, Murray Fasken, who alternated at no. 2, and Jack Hayes. The freshman team composed of Lively, Tonkin, McDonald, Culbertson, and Hayes showed great promise.

This team did much to improve the brand of polo played at A. & M. and at the same time gained much recognition for Texas A. & M. College.

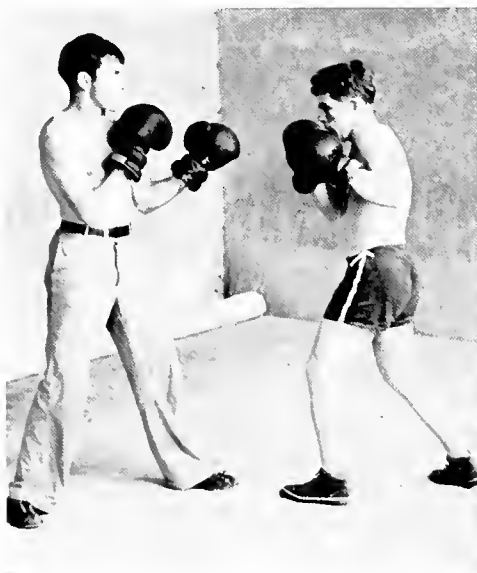

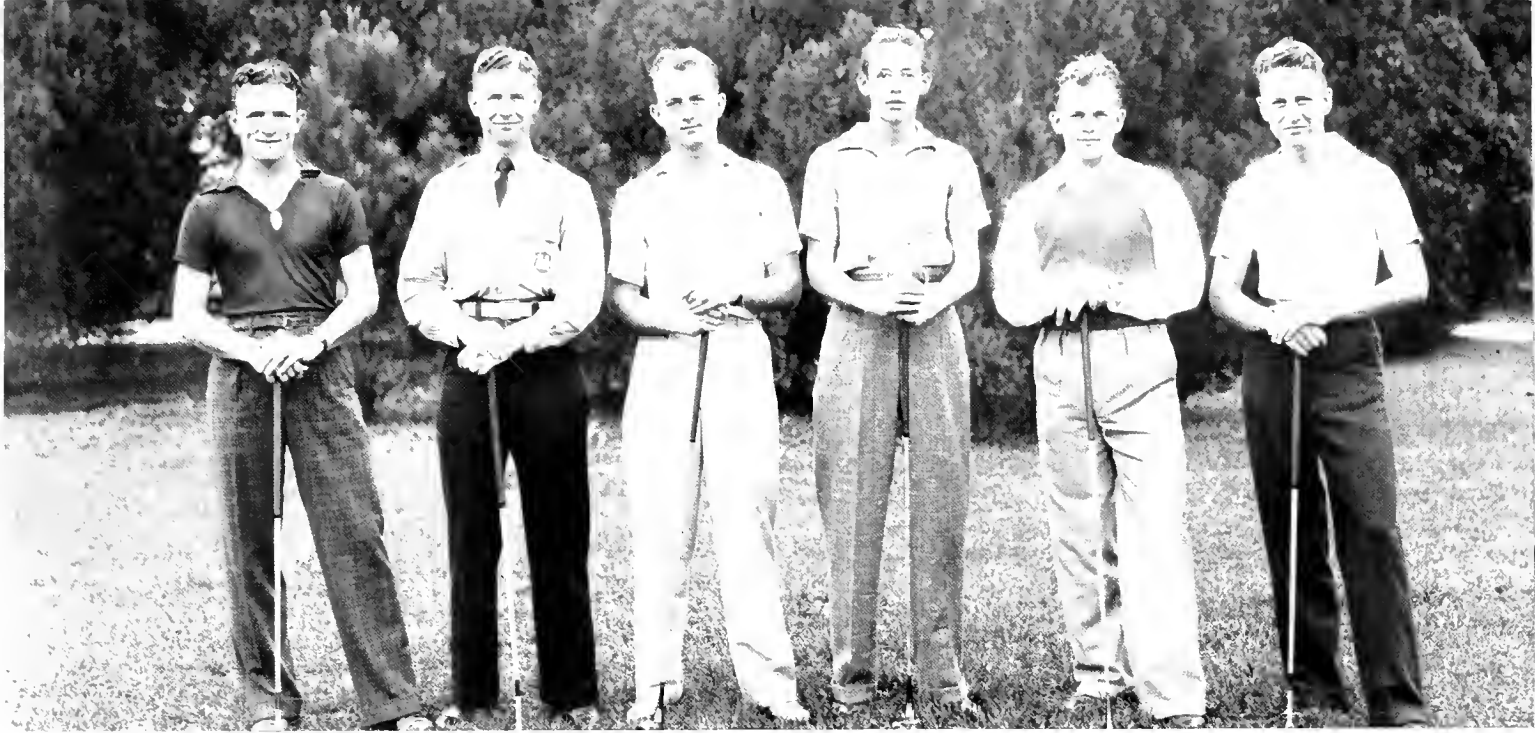

BOXING TEAM '38

In its second year of organization the boxing club has more than doubled its membership of the previous year. The interest in boxing at Aggieland is untold and in the next few years, boxing will become the outstanding of all the minor sports on the campus.

The team worked faithfully all year to be in shape for the A.A.U. meet at Houston but due to an unforeseen accident was unable to attend the meet. Late in the year, Roy Young, Charles Manning, Paul Ainsworth, and Kenneth Smith attended a meet in Fort Worth where they made a favorable record.

The team was coached by Bob Cook who gave his untiring effort and experience to the team. The club officers are: Charles Manning, President; Kenneth Smith, Vice-President; and Paul Ainsworth, Secretary.

GOLF TEAM '38

In recent years golf has become one of the outstanding minor sports at Texas A. & M. This is the first year that the team has had a full time coach. But the guiding hand of Coach Frank G. Anderson can be seen in the improved play of the team. The team is composed of Bill McMahon ranked number 1; Captain Roy Sherrell at the number 2 position; Bill Livingston holds down the number 3 position, followed closely by I. Q. Mayhew at the number 4 position.

The team has had one match this season, tying Rice 3-3. In the next few weeks scheduled matches with Texas, S.M.U., and T.C.U. will be played, and great things are expected of the golf team.

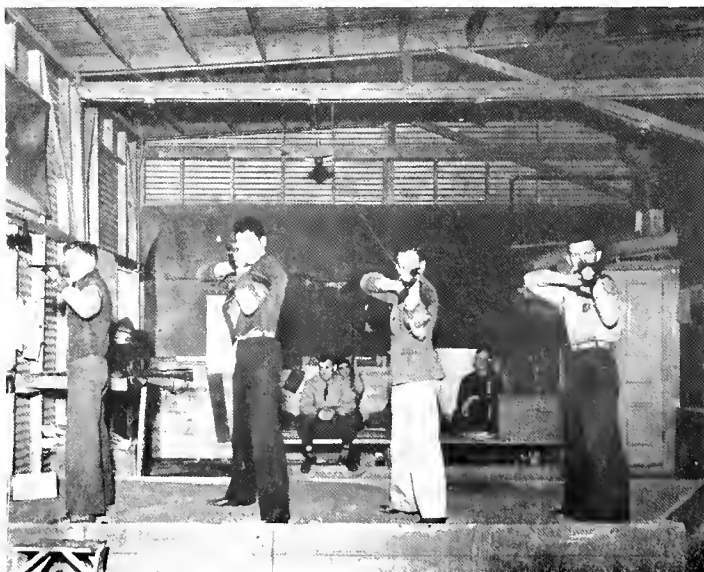

RIFLE TEAM '38

The 1938 Aggie Rifle Team completed a most successful year by taking second place in the Hearst Trophy Matches. These matches, which were fired in March, attracted the best rifle shots in the country. Led by their capable captain and high point man, Bill Lewis, the Aggies came out on top in more than three-quarters of their matches with many of the high ranking colleges and universities of the North and East.

The team was coached by Major Dyer who was ably assisted by Sergeant Richards. The credit for the team's success lies in the fact that these two men gave their untiring effort and guidance to make the season a grand success.

Members of the team are: Lewis, W. E., Captain; Browder, C.D.; Bullard, R. J.; Guy, W. T.; Hodges, M. B.; Hoff, R. S.; Huffaker, J.; Keath, M. E.; Krogstad, S.; Matthieu, L. G.; Miller, R.; Phillips, A. J.; Powell, R.; Pringle, J. P.; Shiels, E. F.; Wimer, C. J.; Witchell, A. S.

PISTOL TEAM '38

The A. & M. Pistol team completed the fifth year of competition with the most outstanding record ever made by a firing team of the Aggies. The team won all but three of its matches this year, and lost these three by very narrow margins. Much of the credit for the team's fine work must be given to coach Captain Enslow and team captain J. T. Ashford who worked unceasingly with the team to perfect its firing.

The Houston A. and M. College Mothers' Club is closing its tenth year of enthusiastic interest in the Student Body and the College.

Membership has increased, meetings are well attended and a splendid spirit of cooperation has existed.
Our Special Project for the year has been the creation of a fund for a Union Building on the campus and establishing a general interest in this project.
Outstanding features have been the Valentine Cookie Shower, annual chicken dinner and the tea honoring the Freshman Mothers.

IN CONCLUSION

Merely to write finis in the conclusion of this book would be a task unfinished. An undertaking of this nature is not completed in a word, a paragraph, a day or even a year. This book represents a definite period in my life, not always beautiful, because a job of this kind was not destined to be filled with glory; but it is one of a realization of a "dream" that has come into being in this 1938 LONGHORN.

An attempt has been made to please every faction and every organization in the presentation of this book, but one can readily realize the futility of such an undertaking. As an alternative we have tried to present to you a book that will portray to the fullest extent a picture of your time spent at Aggieland.

As this book goes to press, I offer no alibis, for I have none. No Editor could possibly desire better working conditions than have befallen me; therefore, I hope that I have, to the best of my ability, presented a LONGHORN that fulfills the responsibilities thrust upon my shoulders in signally honoring me with this position.

It is no little job to thank everyone for his tireless efforts in making the publication of this book possible. It is no one-man job, and the success or failure of it depends on the associates acting as a unit. I could not help but first think of the staff who has labored long, tiresome hours, with little or no reward, asking none, but merely working for the gratification of a desire. They may be assured that their faithfulness has not gone unnoticed, but any attempt to express in a small measure my appreciation would seem trite.

The Rein Company, our printers, has availed us of every opportunity to improve our work and I want to thank personally Mr. R. N. Barrett, the artist to whom we owe much of the success of the book, and Mr. Henry E. Stamm who has taken the responsibility of seeing that the book is printed right. Mr. Horace Wallace of the Wallace Engraving Company has given us excellent service on the engraving of this book. Mr. Joe Sosolik has stayed with us to the end, giving his best to get just the things we wanted, and his favors are much too numerous to try to enumerate. Mr. Howard Berry of the Experiment Station did his part by taking stills of the buildings, and through his expert photography we were able to show, pictorially, the A. & M. Campus.

We certainly owe our thanks to "Chief" Angell and the entire Student Publications Board for their whole-hearted help and support.

The student body as a whole is to be commended on the co-operation they have shown in responding to calls to have pictures made.

Little remains to be said, only "Thanks, again." If we have pleased you, our job is a success; if not, all we can say is we did our best, and it was not good enough. With these things foremost in mind, we present you, with your 1938 LONGHORN.

DEDICATION

Many words of praise have fallen on the ears of our able leaders of this, the class of '38, yet it is not to these that we now wish to pay homage, but rather to those nobler souls who endlessly and quietly toil behind the scenes, faultlessly and efficiently contriving and scheming, not seeking rewards, but rather, placing honor and duty above personal profit, unhesitatingly giving their all.

The ascetic lads have banded themselves together, taken the vows, and have dedicated their lives to the selection, direction, and control of the destinies of each member of the student body. Neither fame nor publicity has been their goal for, preferring darkness to light, and hushed whispers to frank statements, they live in constant fear of exposure.

Weekly they wind their weary way to the Holy of Holies, the inner Sanctum, to mingle freely with the Klan, far from those lesser lights who tread the dim and narrow path.

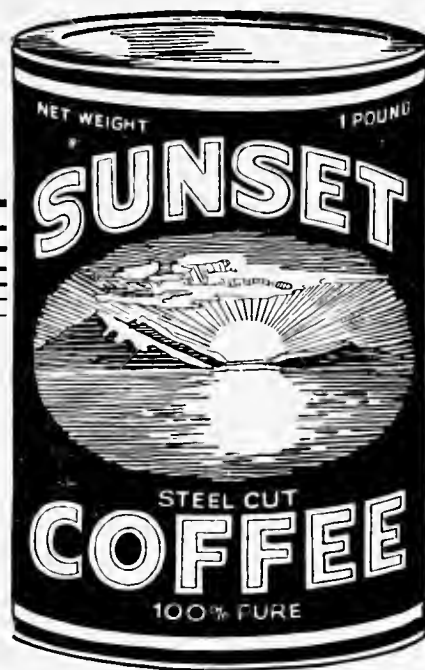

O patron saints, we salute you! May your lives in the future be as spotless as your past, and may your noble sacrifices stand as perpetual memorials to your high principles.

To you,

OUR FRATERNITY BOYS

this Greenhorn is respectfully dedicated, and may God have mercy on your souls!

A GREAT TEXAS INSTITUTION

Texas A. & M. College, one of Texas' leading educational institutions, has contributed much to the development of this State. For more than sixty years this institution has been training men for leadership in agricultural and mechanical endeavors. Thousands of its graduates are today the leaders in great industrial and business enterprises of Texas and many other states . . . May the work of this great institution continue.

THE EXCHANGE STORE OF THE A & M COLLEGE
IS THE STORE OF THE CADETS - - -
THE STUDENTS' HEADQUARTERS - - -

All the books, stationery, and drawing materials that will be needed during the year will be found here. Your regulation uniforms, stetson hats, sam browne belts, shoes, shirts, and in fact everything that is good in the military line, will be found in this store. We also keep in stock the very best line of underwear, hosiery and toilet articles. This store is not run with the idea of money-making but merely for the convenience of the student body, and goods bought of us are sold as cheaply as possible—just enough being added to pay running expenses.

As a Texas institution, we extend to the class of 1938 our best wishes for success as they graduate into the larger world of business and professional life. May you, like your predecessor classes at Texas A. & M. College, contribute to the greater glory of Texas, the chief wealth of which is not in its rich endowment of natural resources, but in its many splendid men and women.

ONE may find in them the circumstances that make for a successful business enterprise—the other may miss the point entirely.

An established connection with a conservative but progressive bank will add to your facilities for judging business opportunities and reaching sound decisions. Your relations with it, being on a strictly confidential basis, will enable you to discuss freely whatever financial problems or contemplated course of action may be on your mind. The bank may be able to point out pitfalls—it may, on the other hand, be able to give you the constructive suggestions needed to encourage you to go ahead.

Helping individual initiative to see and develop opportunity for success has been the outstanding tradition of American banking throughout its history. It is the controlling policy of this bank.

It Happened in 1878

THIS year, 1938, General Electric celebrates 60 years of electrical progress. For in 1878 was organized the Edison Electric Light Company, earliest of the original founder companies which later grew into General Electric. The accomplishments of the pioneers of this organization, in the invention and development of electric equipment, have helped further the progress of civilization—have helped to provide more goods for more people at less cost.

A STRAIGHT LINE,, Is Still
THE SHORTEST DISTANCE BETWEEN TWO POINTS!

In this group of new Lane-Wells buildings in Los Angeles more than four hundred persons are busily engaged in the work of helping operators to get more oil at less cost.

From these buildings go tools and services to every major oil field in the world. These tools and services provide short cuts to production—straight line methods of arriving directly and scientifically at desired and profitable results.

Benefits to operators are summed up in fourteen million feet of hole already accurately surveyed and kept straight—in ten-thousand wells that have been Gun Perforated and made productive.

Lane-Wells tools, instruments and services are needed in every new well from the time drilling begins until bottom is reached—and in every old well that shows an unprofitable decline in production.
